New Balkan War Looms In Europe

Serbian Have Started an Offensive Against Albanians Along Drina

LEAGUE OF NATIONS TO ACT
Fact That Boundary Lines Have Not Been Fixed May Halt Bombardment

By United Press Leased Wire
Geneva.—With the Serbians starting an offensive against the Albanians along the Drina front Europe Wednesday was trying to avert a new Balkan war.

The Serbian-Albanian clash was before the league of nations today for action.

It was believed the league would order Serbia to abandon the attack. If Serbia refuses, the league's power to enforce its orders will be put to a severe test.

League delegates Wednesday eagerly awaited fresh advice from the Drina front where, according to the last dispatches received, the Serbians had opened a bombardment of Albanian villages.

Bishop Noli, head of the Albanian delegation called the league's attention to the threatened war.

He demanded that the league take action.

M. Spalakovitch, leader of the Serbian delegation contends that Albania has no grounds for complaint because its borders have not been fixed and therefore the villages under bombardment are in doubtful territory.

U. S. BEGINS PROBE OF KU KLUX KLAN

Attempt to Revive Famous Civil War Body Will Be Investigated

By United Press Leased Wire
Washington.—Federal authorities are going to fire two shots into the white-robed ranks of the Ku Klux Klan.

The first probably will be a thorough investigation of the order by the Department of Justice.

The second will be a Congressional inquiry.

William Joseph Simmons, known as emperor of the Invisible Empire, may be summoned from his headquarters at Atlanta, to Washington to present his case.

The Post office Department is seeking to determine whether the Klan has violated postal regulations.

Heads of the American Federation of Labor are warning their thousands of adherents to steer clear of the Klan.

500,000 Members
The Klan claims a total membership of 500,000 and says it is calling 1000 fresh recruits to the colors every week.

Its officers say it is a fraternal patriotic organization based on the tradition of the Ku Klux Klan which flourished in the south during the reconstruction period following the Civil War.

They say it is dedicated to loyal Americanism, white supremacy and the protection of American womanhood.

But the opponents of the Klan declare that it is an anti-Negro, anti-Catholic, anti-Jewish, anti-alien body and that it plans by insidious propaganda to stir up racial and religious hatred and internal strife.

It is upon these charges that federal action will be based.

Burns Ready to Act
William J. Burns, chief of the Bureau of Investigation, Department of Justice, says he has not yet looked into the Klan's operations but will do so as soon as he is authorized by Attorney General Daugherty.

Daugherty is not now in Washington. Burns says it is probable he will order a probe immediately upon his return.

Representative Peter F. Tague of Massachusetts has drafted a resolution demanding an investigation of the Klan which he will present soon after Congress convenes.

Planning Program
Representative Leonidas M. Dyer of Missouri, member of the House Judiciary Committee, is studying statutes and precedents to determine what action Congress can take.

"It's probable that we'll pass a resolution empowering some committee or subcommittee to make an investigation," Dyer said. "That will enable the committee to subpoena officers of the Klan and force them to appear at hearings here."

Representative Benjamin J. Fairchild of New York said:

"I don't know of any federal law under which we can prosecute. But it's possible that new federal legislation will be enacted to cover this particular case."

Milwaukee.—Feed men first who are Americans, and proved it in the war, before they get disgusted and say 'this is a h— of a country,' said J. F. Burns in a meeting of the county council of the American Legion here last night.

As the result of the criticism, it was voted to hold an Armistice day ball, the proceeds of which will be devoted to welfare work among former service men. Tentative plans are outlined for the ball, indicate it will be one of the largest and most representative affairs ever staged here.

EXCLUDE MEN FROM ARBUCKLE HEARING

Preliminary Arraignment of Comedian Will Occur in Women's Court

San Francisco, Calif.—Women will hear "Patty" Arbuckle in on every side when he appears before Judge Lazarus tomorrow for preliminary hearing on a murder charge.

The movie comedian accused of assaulting and thus causing the death of Virginia Rappe, actress, will have his hearing in "women's court"—that is the court set aside for complaint made by women. The complainant against Arbuckle is Mrs. Bambino Maude Delmont.

Judge Lazarus announced Wednesday no men would be admitted to the courtroom until after all the women who wanted to enter had found seats. This means that the spectators' seats will be packed with women.

District Attorney Brady Wednesday awaited word from New York that District Attorney Swann in that city had intercepted Lovell Sherman, movie actor, wanted here as a witness in the Arbuckle case.

Brady telegraphed Swann as follows: "Lovell Sherman, important witness in the Arbuckle case, now on Twentieth Century limited, New York Central, bound for New York. Please intercept him and ascertain if he will return voluntarily to San Francisco to make statement as promised. In any event keep him under surveillance."

Sherman, who is a "movie villain," was one of the guests at Arbuckle's "wild party" at which Virginia Rappe was fatally injured.

CHICAGO CHIEF GETS $100 FINE

By United Press Leased Wire
Chicago, Ill.—Police Chief Fitzmorris talked himself into a fine of $100 and a five day jail sentence.

Chief Fitzmorris, during the insanity trial of Carl O. Wanderer, who killed his wife and the ragged stranger, he hired to stage a fake holdup, said "Wanderer should hang."

He refused to retract his statement when called before Judge J. B. David.

"Too much trying of cases out of court," shouted the judge. "Five days and $100 fine."

The chief will appeal the case.

NATION TO BURST INTO PEACE FLARE ARMISTICE DAY

Gompers Leads Move to Spur Disarmament Conference to Definite Action

By David Lawrence
Copyright 1921 by Post Pub. Co.
Washington.—American labor has asked the American legion and other national organizations to cooperate in demonstrations throughout the United States on armistice day not only to celebrate the victory of 1918 but to impress the delegates to the conference on the limitation of armaments with the fact that the American people confidently expect a program to be adopted which will reduce military and naval expenditures and minimize the chances of war.

Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor, today disclosed his plans for parades and mass meetings on November 11 which may exceed in point of numbers the processions of Labor day in past years. Mr. Gompers feels that armistice day passed last November without that glorification of the event which is necessary to install in the minds of people a true appreciation of the sacrifices that were made to win the victory. The day should be, he believes, an occasion for expression of the anti-war sentiment needed to insure a program of enduring peace.

Gompers makes it plain that he is not championing a class movement. He simply is notifying every trade union headquarters in every city and town in the United States that labor should do its part in what he hopes will be taken up by other civic bodies as a national celebration. When armistice day has passed, it is the hope of the American federation of labor that permanent committee of seventy-five members representing all the various national organizations interested in disarmament and the cause of peace will unite and bring respectful pressure to bear on the conference for the limitation of armaments so that there may be no doubt about building up of a world-wide sentiment which will unite the limitation of armaments so that there may be no doubt about the insistence of the American people on practical results. Mr. Gompers is in communication with the labor organizations of other countries. The behind the Washington conference on armament is intended to assure the delegates of all countries that they may ignore the flingings and munitions makers and go as far as they like towards lifting the burdens of taxation which have crippled Europe's purchasing power and indirectly helped to bring on an industrial depression in the United States.

Mr. Gompers was asked what would be the course of the American federation of labor in the event that the conference failed to reach an agreement on the limitation of armament. Would you favor the reduction by the United States of its army and navy irrespective of what the other powers did.

"I have always opposed and shall continue emphatically to oppose any suggestion that the United States disarm alone," replied Mr. Gompers.

So the movement of the American Federation of Labor does not ask the impossible but aims to bring out public sentiment for an agreement on armament.

CABINET TO TAKE UP IRISH CRISIS

British Expect Lloyd George to Precipitate Political Upheaval Soon

By United Press Leased Wire
London.—Premier Lloyd George may postpone the Irish issue and go to the country in a general election campaign, the Daily Mail declared Wednesday.

Belief that the British prime minister feels his position with regard to Ireland to be at the strongest possible point, together with his determination not to go to Washington has given rise to suspicion that Lloyd George contemplates precipitating a political crisis in England.

The British cabinet committees were gathering at Gairloch Wednesday for a discussion of the Irish situation and unemployment. Winston Churchill and Lord Birkenhead arrived early today and Sir Hamar Greenwood, Sir Robert Horne, Sir Alfred Mond and Thomas MacDonagh were expected. The last named three compose the committee which will discuss unemployment while Sir Hamar Greenwood was to consult with Lloyd George on the latest note from De Valera, preliminary to the more formal meeting tomorrow.

The British reply to De Valera was expected to be delayed until after the cabinet meeting.

Feeling that De Valera in his last note, has definitely accepted the British invitation to a conference, on the terms continued to agree to.

Must Unionize Miners In West Virginia Or Expect New Outbreaks

Philip Murray Tells Miners' Convention It Is Time to Remove Spy and Guard Systems—Ask Harding to Take Action.

By United Press Leased Wire
Indianapolis, Ind.—Civil war may break out again in the West Virginia coal regions after federal troops are withdrawn. Philip Murray, vice president of the United Mine Workers, intimated Wednesday in his report to the miners convention here.

Murray went into Mingo, Mercer, McDowell and Logan counties when the fighting was at its height in an effort to dissuade the miners from their course.

"Federal troops did restore quiet in the disturbed area," he told the 2,500 miners assembled in Tomlinson hall. "I am satisfied that there will be no disturbances in the mining fields of West Virginia during the period that federal troops occupy the affected sections, but when the soldiers of the federal government leave the state, they are going to leave behind them the source of all this evil."

"It must become evident to all that a determined effort should be put forth by the labor unions of this country to remove this menacing evil from the lives of our people. I am satisfied that the governor of the state of West Virginia is not disposed to render to the decent citizens of West Virginia any assistance in their effort to remove the Baldwin-Felts mine guards from the industrial life of that state."

Ask Harding's Aid
Murray recommended that the convention petition President Harding and Congress for legislation to "eradicate or remove the evil influences of the spy and guard systems from the industrial life of our country."

Appealing for the convention to make every effort to unionize the four counties in question—the last stronghold of the open shop in the mining industry—Murray told the delegates that the miners of West Virginia are willing to make every sacrifice to this end.

Murray also touched on the wage question, declaring that the miners will demand an increase when the scale committee meets the operators at the expiration of the present contract next March.

Gompers to Speak
Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor, will attend the miners convention next Saturday. It was announced Wednesday Gompers was invited to address the meeting and his acceptance was received Wednesday.

It became known late last night that a majority of the 619 resolutions to be placed before the meeting deals with the question of wages and working conditions. The resolutions make it evident that the scale committee meeting the operators in wage conference next March will likely demand a six hour day, a five day week and an increase in wages.

One resolution would prohibit any United Mine Worker from being a member of the American legion, which was termed a capitalistic organization. Another would put the convention on record as favoring recognition of soviet Russia and demanding the release of American political prisoners.

MRS. M'ALLISTER TO BE A WITNESS

Oranion — Mrs. Bert McAllister, rooming house keeper, will testify Wednesday in the trial of Willis and Lawrence Lesperance and "Frenchy" and Chalmers Tanager, charged with the robbery of the Waheno State bank July 15. It was at Mrs. McAllister's rooming house that the first trail of the alleged robbers was picked up.

Norman Wall, taxicab driver was also called to testify. He was said to have driven two of the alleged robbers from Green Bay to Waheno three days after the bank had been looted.

TREATY APPROVAL IS FIRST BIG JOB BEFORE CONGRESS

President Will Demand Early Action on Bills Impeding Business Progress

By Frazer Edwards
Washington, D. C.—Congress was back on the job Wednesday, ready to jam through the administration's legislative program.

Both houses met at noon with the prospect of continuous sessions until late into next year.

The three peace treaties to end the war officially for America reached the senate shortly after the senate session opened.

The $3,200,000,000 tax revision bill was reported promptly to the senate by Senator Penrose, chairman of the finance committee. No eleventh hour changes were made.

After being in session 20 minutes the house adjourned until noon Saturday.

In the senate Senator Pat Harrison crowded the expected debate on the anti-herb bill off the stage for the time being when at the close of routine business he began an oratorical reply to President Harding's recent enumeration of Republican accomplishments during the present administration.

Harrison severely criticized President Harding for taking his recent vacation in "a beautiful and luxurious yacht while ex-servicemen were being auctioned on the block in Boston common."

"While millions of Americans were hanging their heads in shame at the thought of the men who won the war were being sold as slaves, while wages were being reduced in the government navy yards, the president was enjoying himself at the theatre in New York," declared Harrison.

You Republicans promised the soldiers a bonus and you have given them auction blocks."

President's Program
The president's legislative program is to be taken up in the following order:

1—Ratification of the German, Austrian and Hungarian treaties.

2—Passage of the tax revision bill.

3—Enactment of the administration's railroad relief measure.

4—Passage of the permanent tariff bill.

Sandwiched in among the major measures upon which the president advances the idea that the murders were committed by someone who was hit by a bullet against the Monroes, or by a maniac.

Investigation, however, shows no trace of robbery although that theory is being run down.

SEEK MURDERER IN FIENDISH CLUBBING OF THREE TO DEATH

Unidentified Man Takes Lives of Three With Heavy Club Full of Spikes

By United Press Leased Wire
Dowagiac, Mich.—The only clew Wednesday to the fiendish murder of three members of a family was a bloody finger print and a nail-studded club.

William Monroe, his wife Mary and their daughter Neva, 17, were found in bed, their skulls crushed.

Archie Monroe, battered and bruised, regained consciousness in the hospital Wednesday.

Attempts were made to question her. She said nothing but "Mamma, dear, what happened?"

The coroner impaled his jury and an investigation into the fiendish crime was under way.

Grace McKee, daughter of a neighbor and playmate of the Monroe children, made the gruesome discovery.

She had not seen her playmate since Saturday and, believing they were ill, knocked at the Monroe cottage. There was no response and she entered the unlocked door.

"Mamma, Mamma," mumbled Archie, who was lying on the floor with her arms clasped tightly about a table leg.

The McKee child, horrified at the misery of her blood covered chum, ran from the house screaming.

Ralph Gillette, brother of Mrs. Monroe, rushed into the house.

In the main bedroom he found Monroe and his wife dead in their bed, their faces crushed. Monroe had evidently been killed instantly while asleep as his hands were still hanging down by his side. The wife, it was believed, had been awakened by the impact of the club on her husband's head, as she had one arm raised as if an effort had been made to defend herself.

In another room the lifeless seven-year old Neva was found, her face also crushed.

In the corner of the room occupied by Neva was found a nail studded club—a long two-by-four with a score of heavy spikes in it. The club had been thrown against the wall with fury, judging from the hole that was knocked in the plaster.

On the white bed spread was found the other clew—a bloody finger print.

Family Seen Saturday
The Monroe family was last seen Saturday night. They were heard by neighbors talking and laughing.

Neva had gone to a movie with a boy classmate—she was a junior in the high school here.

On none of the bodies had the club been used elsewhere than the face. Authorities, judging from this, advanced the idea that the murders were committed by someone who was hit by a bullet against the Monroes, or by a maniac.

Some neighbors have reported that Monroe had accumulated a large sum of money and that his daughters had told other children "they were going to move into a large house soon."

Investigation, however, shows no trace of robbery although that theory is being run down.

War Veterans Leave In Morning For Bay

Men Having Claims for Government Squad to Adjust Are to Assemble at Red Cross at 8 o'clock—Transportation Provided.

Ex-servicemen of Outagamie county, who have matters of government compensation that require adjustment will leave the Appleton Red Cross rooms at 8 o'clock Thursday morning to go to Green Bay where they will present their claims to the official adjustment squad. Transportation to and from Green Bay and meals there will be furnished free.

Applicants for compensation are reminded for the last time to be sure and bring papers and sufficient evidence to support their claims. The war has been over nearly three years and present physical disability must be shown to be a direct result of war service if compensation is to be secured. For that reason, medical certificates from the attending physician should be ready for presentation in such cases.

If men are applying for vocational training they must prove themselves physically fit to take such training and should have certificates from their employers showing that they have ability to do the work which they would undertake.

Discharge papers and all communications received from the federal board and the war risk insurance board must be presented to the government squad by all claimants.

"SHIRT SLEEVE" MINE WAR PROBE NEARING AN END

Senators Hope to Induce West Virginia Operators and Unions to Confer

By Harold D. Jacobs
By United Press Leased Wire
Charleston, W. Va.—Joint conferences of unionists and operators as a basis for settlement of West Virginia's mine troubles will be recommended to the senate investigation committee, it was learned authoritatively Wednesday.

The recommendations will be made by Senators Kenyon and Shortridge who have been conducting informal hearings in the trouble zone.

Drastic measures to force settlement will be urged if the joint conferences fail it was said.

Conferees between unionists and operators have been sought by miner officials for many weeks. There appeared little prospect the coal operators now will agree to such sessions, as they consider it would mean recognition of the union.

Kenyon said formally investigations will be transferred to West Virginia soon. Hearings probably will be held first in Huntington, he said.

The "shirt sleeve investigation" ends here Wednesday in a conference with Governor Morgan and other state officials on mine war conditions.

Before night Senators Kenyon and Shortridge will be enroute back to Washington with what the latter is pleased to term the "low down" on conditions responsible for West Virginia's industrial troubles.

With the scene of the subcommittee men's inquiry shifted to a more urban community than that of rounders in Mingo and Logan counties they abandoned their practice of investigation in shirt sleeves and suspenders, and appeared in habiliments in keeping with the popular conception of the senatorial toga.

Kenyon and Shortridge were deeply impressed with the testimony of Colonel William Wiley, general manager of the Boone County Coal corporation with whom they conversed in Logan. He voluntarily lionized his mines—situated in Logan county—several years ago and has the confidence of union men generally, yet he repeated the charge that the union operators of the central competitive field comprising Ohio, Illinois and Pennsylvania are conspiring with the United Mine Workers to force non-union operators to unionize.

Madison.—Hearing on the application of Hugo Alby, Milwaukee saloon man, to make permanent the injunction issued by the court to restrain the state prohibition department from enforcing the Severson law requiring the removal of bars from near beer saloons, got under way before Circuit Judge E. Assistant Attorney-General Musser-schmidt is representing the state, while Ralph Jackson, Madison, and Irving Fish, Milwaukee, represent Alby.

Albert Zinn, a soda fountain supply man from Milwaukee, and Walter Jandynski, Milwaukee real estate man, were the first witnesses.

Jandynski testified that Alby's property is worth $10,000 as long as he is allowed to operate a bar, but that removal of the bar would cut the value of the site to one-fourth that amount.

Indict Kenosha Officers For Accepting Bribes From Law Violators

By United Press Leased Wire
Kenosha.—Indictments against two former county officials here were brought by a special grand jury yesterday, when the existence of a "protection ring" was revealed, which is alleged to involve at least three former county officials.

Former District Attorney Peter Fischer, Jr., and former Sheriff Joseph Meyer were the two mentioned in the first indictments.

Fischer is charged on 14 counts in four separate indictments and Meyer on four counts. Both are alleged to have received bribes for protection of law violators in the county.

The most sensational charges made against former District Attorney Fischer were that while he was conducting the investigation carried on by the grand jury, he was alleged to have accepted large sums of money from two men, previously indicted on liquor charges.

Fischer was arraigned before Judge R. B. Belden in circuit court yesterday and pleaded not guilty. He gave bonds for $10,000 on all the counts.

Mannheim and Ludwigshafen Are Partially Wrecked—Report Heard for Miles

DEAD ESTIMATED AT 1,000

Cause of Explosion Has Not Been Determined—Started in Huge Factory

By United Press Leased Wire
Berlin.—One thousand persons were reported killed, hundreds were injured, three railway trains were buried and portions of the towns of Mannheim and Ludwigshafen destroyed by a series of explosions in a chemical works there Wednesday, according to press dispatches.

The explosion started in the Oppour Works in Ludwigshafen, these advisers said.

One terrific detonation followed another, spreading death and destruction. Huge masses of debris were hurled into the air, burying victims and houses in a ruin of wreckage from the sky.

First reports said seven hundred were estimated dead. Later advices to the Lokal Anzeiger stated one thousand were believed to have perished.

The jarring force of the explosions was felt as far away as Frankfurt, a distance of 45 miles.

The cities of Mannheim and Ludwigshafen are separated by the Rhine. While the explosions occurred in Ludwigshafen in the Oppour chemical works there, the city was almost as terrible in Mannheim.

It was reported that a great quantity of artificial nitrogen blew up, causing the disaster. However, there was so much confusion and panic that it was impossible to determine just what happened.

Only fragmentary reports, giving a hint of the scenes that followed the disaster, were available at first as telephone and telegraph lines were destroyed.

Thousands of terrified men, women and children, swarmed into the streets after the explosion.

A large area of the chemical works was laid in ruins. Bodies of many of the victims were blown to atoms. Others were found in the tangled masses of debris.

Survivors Frantic
Frantic wives fought against police lines in the vicinity of the wrecked area, seeking to break through and ascertain whether their husbands had been saved.

Surgeons and nurses were called in from nearby cities to aid in caring for the wounded, dispatches received here said.

Ludwigshafen has a population of about 61,000 of whom many are employed in the vast chemical works.

Mannheim, with a population of about 140,000 also has chemical works, and factories, and an extensive residential area. It is also the seat of a grand ducal palace.

Were Experimenting
Nitrogen such as was being manufactured at Ludwigshafen is in great demand as fertilizer. Extensive experiments are understood to have been conducted in Germany recently with artificial nitrogen.

The force of the explosion was felt as far as Frankfurt.

Fragmentary reports indicated there was a game in Mannheim and Ludwigshafen, the twin cities, as detonation followed detonation.

WOMANS CLUB IS PLANNING ON 400 AT CONVENTION

Entertainment and Program Arrangements for Big Gathering Under Way

Plans for the entertainment of the Wisconsin Federation of Women's clubs in Appleton Oct. 12 to 14 are taking definite shape according to the reports of the chairmen of the various committees at their weekly meeting at the club rooms Tuesday.

The automobile committee under Mrs. Harry Ingold has charge of taking the club representatives to the Congregational church to register and then to the homes in which they are to be guests. Her committee will also assist with the auto ride on Thursday of which the chairman of commerce will take charge. Mrs. Richard Meyer is making arrangements for all the official lunches which the various committees will need.

Mrs. Carrie Morgan met with her committee on credentials immediately before the general meeting of chairmen. This committee receives the credentials of the representatives of the various clubs in the state. Each club is allowed a number of delegates according to its size, who represent their organization at the business sessions. Many members of the clubs will come as visitors and do not report officially to Miss Morgan's committee.

Mrs. W. R. Watson as chairman of the decoration committee will arrange for flowers for the meetings in the Congregational church and the evening sessions in Lawrence Memorial chapel. Mrs. S. C. Shannon is chairman of the finance committee.

At the meeting Tuesday, Mrs. James Wood reported that the exhibits for the convention are to be very interesting. Some of them will be placed in the T. M. C. A. in the Vocational school and in one or two other places. Some of the educational exhibits will be of special interest to the students and teachers in the city. A time is being set aside when it will be convenient for the schools to visit the exhibits in order that all may take advantage of the display.

Club members are being solicited by the housing committee of which Mrs. G. M. Schumaker is chairman to take the delegates into their homes as guests for three nights and three breakfasts. Many delegates have already been provided for, but arrangements must be made for 400. The local club members are to entertain the delegates only. Visiting members of clubs customarily make their own arrangements for their stay in the city.

Opportunity will be given the delegates to have their dinners served by societies of various churches. Mrs. Frank Wright is in charge of these arrangements. Mrs. Carl Waterman as chairman of the music committee is providing a splendid selection of music by members of the conservatory faculty and others.

Mrs. D. O. Kinsman outlined the program of the three days briefly for the committee chairmen. The program is not completed, but will include the twenty-fifth anniversary celebration of the federation at which the first three presidents of the Wisconsin organization will speak. Mrs. Percy V. Pennybacker of Brownwood, Tex., noted woman speaker and club leader is one of several well-known speakers. At the special request of the program committee of the federation Lawrence college faculty will be represented and its speakers will be Dr. Samuel Plantz and Miss Frances Foster.

The social functions committee has arranged for teas to be given on two afternoons, one at Neenah, one at the Riverview country club and at Germesby and Russell Sage dormitories. Special dinners for some of the noted visitors and members of the federation boards will be given in the homes of Appleton women.

Mrs. Roy Marston reported for the ushers committee. Mrs. August Meyer for registration, Miss Muriel Kelly for publicity, Mrs. D. J. O'Connor for information. After the reports, plans for the next club meeting which will be at Lawrence conservatory Tuesday, Sept. 27, were made. The meeting will be in charge of Mrs. Stephen Rose hush, chairman of the executive committee for the convention.

INDUSTRIAL BODY OF CHURCH MEETS

Congregational Committee Meets Here to Prepare State Report

Partial preparation of a report for the state Congregational conference at Eau Claire in November was accomplished by the industrial relations committee of the denomination at its fall meeting here Tuesday afternoon in the study of Dr. H. E. Peabody, chairman of the committee.

Members of the committee who attended were George W. Mead, Wisconsin Rapids; president of Interlake Pulp and Paper company of this city and the Consolidated Water Power and Paper company of Wisconsin Rapids; Dr. T. M. Shippard, Milwaukee; the Rev. H. D. Davies, Wauwatosa; R. Scamffer, Fond du Lac, member of Locomotive Firemen's union and H. G. Riley, Beloit, head of the T. M. C. A. employment bureau. W. P. Wagner, Green Bay and Prof. R. C. Mullenix of Lawrence college also are members of the committee but were unable to attend.

Dance at Apple Creek Pavilion. Given by Apple Creek Baseball team, Sunday, Sept. 25th. Mills Orchestra. Admission 75c, plus war tax.

It was stated at the meeting that the recent Methodist conference at Sheboygan appointed a similar industrial relations committee to cooperate with the Congregational group. The Presbyterian conference also plans to appoint such a body. This was regarded as significant because it is a new field of service for churches. The Congregationalists inaugurated the movement and have had a committee in Wisconsin for three years.

Dissemination of practical authentic information to various Congregational pastors is the object of the committee which met here. Its members keep in touch with the situation in the industrial world especially in plants where progress is made towards better relations between employer and employee. Any special activities which develop good will are noted particularly. Pastors thus informed can deal with the industrial problem from their pulpits and accurately from more intelligently and accurately from their pulpits and can impart many valuable suggestions. Investigations have been conducted by the committee in a number of plants.

MANY PEOPLE AT COMMUNITY DANCE

First Party of Appleton Womens Club Proved Wholesome, Recreative Affair

More than 350 Appleton people attended the first of the Community dances given by the Sports council of the Appleton Womens club at Armory G. Tuesday night. The hall was decorated in golden rod yellow. The Country club orchestra furnished the music.

In speaking of the success of the dance many people remarked at the fine spirit of cooperation of the young people with the council in making dancing an enjoyable recreation. There were few violations of rules and when there was occasion to speak to dancers about their position and dancing, they were courteous and gave no further trouble.

Older members of the club who attended the dance said that the trend of dancing Tuesday night was toward the better type and away from the exaggerated and ungraceful dances which have been introduced during the past season. The next dance will be Oct. 21 and will be a Halloween party.

COUNCIL TO TAKE UP BRIDGE MATTER

Government's Approval of Proposed Lawe-st. Bridge to Be Arranged

A regular meeting of the common council will be held in the city hall Wednesday evening. The most important matter to come up will be the Lawe-st. bridge, the contract for which was let to the Wausau Iron Co. at the meeting two weeks ago. As the time for voting it has expired there is no possibility of the mayor blocking the action of the majority of the council.

The approval of the location and plans of the secretary of war having expired last December, the first step of the council will be to make application for a renewal of the approval which will require considerable time.

No action concerning the construction of the bridge can be undertaken until sanctioned by the government.

MOOSE DRIVE FOR MEMBERS BEGINS

Preliminary arrangements for a membership campaign were made at the meeting of the Loyal Order of Moose Tuesday evening. The work is to be in charge of ten teams, the captains of which have been selected. An effort is to be made to double the membership by each member securing one candidate. The class will be known as the James J. Davis class and will be initiated on Thanksgiving day.

John Ross was selected as vice dictator to succeed Earl W. Bates, who left Monday for Cincinnati, O., to take a course of electrical engineering at a government school.

A class of five candidates was initiated.

Resume Rehearsals

ENROL FOR EVENING CLASSES OCTOBER 3

Vocational School Has Arranged Extensive Instruction Program This Year

October 3 to 7 has been designated as enrollment week for evening classes at Appleton Vocational school. The largest enrollment in the history of evening school is expected and preparations are being made to care for all. Classes will meet in the vocational school, First ward, Columbus, Fifth ward, Fourth ward and Richmond schools.

Classes in home economics will include cooking, sewing, form making, millinery, pattern drafting, remodeling, children's sewing and nursing. Shop courses will consist of machine shop work, period furniture making, auto mechanics, electric wiring and drafting. Bookkeeping, shorthand, typewriting, salesmanship and advertising will be included in the commercial classes.

General improvement classes will take English, grammar and commercial correspondence, arithmetic, English for foreigners and citizenship.

Special classes will be arranged with the university extension division and it is hoped that special classes for former service men will be instituted.

Appleton evening vocational school was established in 1911 with an enrollment of only 97 students. At that time only four courses were offered. The enrollment has increased every year except in 1919 when it fell on account of the war. In 1920 the evening school enrollment jumped to 1,003 members over the 300 of 1919. In 1921, one thousand seventy-eight people took advantage of the courses offered. The curriculum included 23 subjects.

VIADUCT HEARING WILL BE HELD HERE SATURDAY MORNING

Highway Commission Will Hear Views of Taxpayers on Bridge Problem

The Wisconsin highway commission will hold a hearing in the city hall at 10 o'clock Saturday morning on the proposed Lake-st., viaduct proposition at which citizens generally will be given an opportunity to be heard.

heard. The hearing is the result of a petition forwarded to the commission by the common council for financial aid, the statutes providing that where a viaduct is over a specified length the expense shall be borne equally by the city, county and state. As the proposition is one of vital interest to both the city and county there is every indication that every seat will be occupied by taxpayers.

WAUPACA COUNTY DAIRYMEN COMING

Outagamie-co. is to be honored soon by a visit from members of the Guernsey Breeders association of Waupaca-co., who will come on an educational tour of the leading Guernsey farms in this vicinity.

It is likely that the party will have time to visit only three farms and Paul O. Nyhus, farm agent for the First National bank, is now arranging an itinerary for them. Guernsey breeders here feel much pleased that their work is receiving attention outside the county and look upon the event as an incentive to greater effort.

NOT ENOUGH ROOM FOR CLUB SESSIONS

Number of Meetings Held by Womens Club Shows Need of Larger Quarters

One meeting after another and sometimes two and three at a time is the usual program at the Appleton Womens clubroom. Chairmen of committees, leaders of clubs and sport activities, chairmen of departments have to make their reservations a long time in advance so as to be sure that their groups can meet. When an executive board meeting is occupying the west end of the one large room, a committee meeting the east window, and a refreshments committee a portion midway between and the stenographer has been relegated to the kitchen, then do club leaders sigh: "Oh for committee rooms and more space."

Beginning at 4 o'clock Monday, the clubroom was given no rest between meetings. The Music department had its first meeting of the year at 4 o'clock, the advisory council of the Business and Professional Womens club at 7:15 and the meeting of the basketball enthusiasts following close on its heels at 7:45. At 2 o'clock Tuesday, Miss Carrie Morgan met the committee on credentials, at 3 o'clock the executive committee of the federation convention met and before that session was over, the Health department of the club was ready for its first meeting of the season.

But such is the life of a club in small quarters, one "doggone" meeting after another.

Sure Relief

BELL-ANS FOR INDIGESTION
6 BELL-ANS Hot water Sure Relief
FOR INDIGESTION

Your Heating Engineer—you used to call him Steamfitter

"During the first winter nearly one-half of their number died from exposure."

—ENCYCLOPEDIA BRITANNICA

JUST three hundred years ago they landed on Plymouth Rock. They were a courageous company—as sturdy and stout as the best of us.

But nearly half of them died from exposure.

The land to which they came was the same land in which we live; the winter was no more severe than our winters now.

But nearly half of them died from exposure.

Almost no one in America dies from exposure today. And why? Because of the service of a group of quiet, unassuming men. Working without special notice or praise, the men whom you call Steamfitters and Plumbers have made the newest nation the healthiest and best-warmed nation in the world.

They have done a wonderful work for America; and yet their work is hardly more than begun. Statisticians say that 17½ million homes in America still have no heat except the heat of old-fashioned stoves.

If every man who can install a heating plant should work every day, it would take a generation to give modern healthful heat to those 17½ million homes.

An almost overwhelming task! But think of the overwhelming economy! Every IDEAL TYPE A HEAT MACHINE substituted for a wasteful furnace or boiler means that one family's fuel bill is reduced one-third.

Every ARCOLA, supplanting a furnace or old-fashioned stoves, slashes the fuel bill of another home.

Of all the services rendered to the modern home there is none which pays for itself more quickly or more surely than the service of the Steamfitter and Plumber.

Call your Steamfitter or your Plumber in now and have him go over your house and report; his counsel may save you money. Make it a point to consult him twice a year as you do your Doctor or your Dentist. And do not be surprised if the old name over his store has been taken down and a new one hangs in its place.

For the men whose science and skill have robbed winter of its terrors and removed the breeding-grounds of disease, have outgrown the names by which you have been accustomed to call them. Their work has become a profession: the Steamfitter and Plumber of yesterday are today the Heating and Sanitary Engineers.

ARCOLA—

the Heating Engineer's wonderful new gift to the small home.

FOR years every Heating Engineer has longed for a hot-water heating outfit that would warm the small home as perfectly as the larger heating plants of the AMERICAN RADIATOR COMPANY warm mansions, cathedrals and even the White House itself.

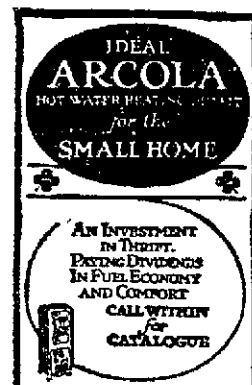

ARCOLA—a wonderful new invention developed after years of experiment—is the answer to that hope.

ARCOLA is unlike any heating equipment you have ever seen. It is radiator and boiler and hot-water heater combined to burn any kind of fuel. Set in the living-room, dining-room or kitchen, it radiates healthful warmth to every corner. American Radiators, connected with it by small pipes carry its warmth to every room upstairs and down. The kitchen tank, too, can draw on its deep firepot, providing an abundance of hot water for washing and bathing.

See ARCOLA today in the store of any Heating Engineer displaying the red and yellow card at the right.

ARCOLA is not only a great invention for the small home; it is a gift to the small home in a very real sense.

For, in the fuel it saves, ARCOLA is guaranteed to pay for itself.

THE STAGE

Victor Artists

"I would not lighten your burdens if I could but only give you a strength to bear them." So wrote Elbert Hubbard, the Roycroft.

Eight famous Victor Artists, who by their gift of melody and mirth are daily driving dull care out of millions of lives the wide world over, are coming to Lawrence Memorial Chapel, Wednesday evening, Sept. 28. They are Henry Burr, tenor; Albert Campbell, tenor; Billy Murray, tenor-comedian; John Meyer, baritone; Frank Croxton, basso; Monroe Silver, monologist; Fred Van Eps, banjoist; Frank Banta, pianist and accompanist. In this organization are the members of the Sterling Trio and the Peerless Quartet.

You can hear them any day on your Victrola—but only this once can you look upon them actually in person, and feel the magic of their buoyant personalities. They will come, they will entertain, and they will go, perhaps never to return in this "Goodie Company."

The eight artists present a liberal program, solos, duets, quartets, monologues, instrumental novelties appealing to music lovers and mirth lovers alike. Carroll's Music shop is sponsoring the concert. Seats are now on sale.

AN UNCONDITIONAL CONFERENCE

The suggestion of the Sinn Fein that delegations representing Ireland and Great Britain meet in a final conference untrammelled by conditions may be a sensible way out of the impasse which has arisen between Lloyd George and De Valera. The obstacle which is standing in the way of the conference and which if not removed will mean a resumption of the war in Ireland and the sacrifice of many lives is formula. It is a futile attempt to lay down hard and fast conditions which shall define the footing on which the delegates meet. The opposing sides cannot agree and that is all there is to it. If De Valera must formally recognize the sovereignty of Great Britain over Ireland, or if the British premier must concede the independence of Ireland, the effort to make peace may as well be abandoned.

There is a way out of the deadlock, however, and that is simply to meet without making admissions, concessions or assurances. This, delegations representing the British government and the people of Ireland can do. If the conference can devise a scheme of dominion government for Ireland which will be satisfactory to the Irish leaders, the controversy is settled and the Irish problem solved. That it is possible to arrive at such an understanding is indicated by the repeated declarations of De Valera and other spokesmen that Ireland is willing to function in the empire and to accept dominion status. This is the practical side of the issue, the devising of a basis acceptable to both sides for union. The other is an abstract issue of principle, doctrinaire argument, which can never be settled by words.

If Ireland had no intention of remaining in the British union and was out for complete severance, that would be a different matter and the position of her leaders in the discussion would make resort to arms the only possible means of decision. But her attitude seems to be a willingness to accept dominion government. Obviously, if that is the case, the proper course is to proceed to define the basis of government and dismiss the contention over conditions preliminary to a conference.

THE KU KLUX KLAN

The Ku Klux Klan, which is receiving a wholesome exposure at the hands of the American press, is another exhibition of the futility of attempting to set up a government within the government of the United States. We have had other organizations of a similar character, which had for their purpose the taking of law into their own hands or the discharging of the functions of the constituted authorities. Such bodies of misguided men, no matter how laudable the objects they profess may be, spell their own doom by the very character of their association. The American people will never tolerate an attempt to control the administration of the country's laws and its government through secret and insidious power. To do so would be equivalent to abrogating the constitution and turning the nation over to night riders.

If there is lawlessness in the country, if there are forces working to control public officials which are a menace, if there are abuses to correct, the proper, in fact the only sound road to reform is by openly and courageously supporting law enforcement. Public officials which fail or refuse to do their duty, which wink at law violation or are controlled by sinister influences, can be removed. Those which are timid and wavering can be strengthened by moral encouragement, while those which uphold the civil rights of the people and protect life and property at whatever cost can be sustained by public approval. In no case does a situation present itself which justifies the employment of secret pressure or concealed correction. There is ample power, there is ample resource, there is ample purpose in the United States to administer the laws and government without clandestine interference.

The Ku Klux Klan is an organization which operates in the dark. Its oath stamps it as setting up power and purpose in conflict with the constitution. Instead of being an agency in support of law and order it is an agency of disorder and lawlessness. It is engaged in a nefarious business, seeking to array class against class, religion against religion and race against race. It works behind masks and in the shadow of night. It has attained amazing proportions, and without public knowledge. It is estimated that its present membership in the various states is in the neighborhood of 500,000. It is an extraordinary movement in the sense of its apparent success and growth.

But it will not last long after the exposure now in progress. An organization which is nurtured in the dark cannot stand the light of day. The department of justice has taken cognizance of its operations, and the reaction of public opinion is overwhelmingly against it. The invisible empire turns out to be quite visible. The theatrical ritual which has been revealed to persons willing to part with $10. and who have in fear and trembling promised to preserve its secrecy inviolate even in their own families, proves to be a copyrighted document. The ritual has been published as a part of the expose, and stamps the whole movement as that of unprincipled fanaticism. It is so utterly ridiculous in its methods and workings that it is hard to see how half a million persons with common sense could be beguiled into membership. However, it will go no further. The Ku Klux Klan had a spectacular career for five short years. It can now disband and lay away its paraphernalia until some other crank comes along with an idea that the government of the United States can be conducted from a beach grove or a lonely cemetery and induces good people to part with their money and time at a price of ten dollars per.

THE END IS HERE

The worst has come. The medium of interest in life that was left to the home brewer is gone. There is to be no brew domestic. It is verboten. When the last drink has been brought up from below and the present stock is exhausted, the forlorn host will dolefully reply to the cheated guest: "That's all there is; there isn't any more." It is the end of the rope. It is pitiful, to be sure, but it is true, for we have in cold black type the reality. "The manufacture of any intoxicating beer, wine or spirits in the home, even for strictly private home consumption, is illegal," reads the announcement of the prohibition unit of the treasury department. Furthermore, it is declared unlawful to manufacture any alcoholic beverage without a permit, which permits may not be issued to home brewers. Nor can the "makings" be purchased without a permit, which permit is not issued to the home brewer.

By way of compensation, the home brewer is notified by the department ruling that he may manufacture 200 gallons of non-intoxicating fruit juice annually by registering with the collector of internal revenue. This is all the future holds out—200 gallons of unfermented grape juice per year. There can be no complaint about the quantity, for the ordinary home brewer should be able to make it cover a period of ten years so far as his own requirements are concerned. It has come to this, that grape juice is the only ray of light in a black, black sky, while even jazz bands and moist gardens must inevitably lose their appeal. To be sure, there is moonshine, but its pale sickening light is a feeble guide to the foot.

The home brewer is in the last ditch. Indeed, he is now called upon to surrender and next we shall behold him in the humiliating role of dragging forth his copper kettles, coils, burners, pans and kindred accoutrements and depositing them upon the platter of the prohibition sleuth. It is the end of the road. It is "Hail and Farewell." The epitaph may now be composed, and Don Marquis may write a revised edition of "The Old Soak."

Aldrich's Critic

"As time went on," says Fern Greenleaf of Times as Bailey Aldrich "he was growing more and more dubious in the revision of his prose, and in the end he smoothed and filed it with the same loving, loving care that he bestowed upon his poems. As he wrote in one of his letters, 'There is only one thing I stand greatly in dread of, he becomes more and more exacting every month; he is getting to be a dreadful fellow for me, and his name is T. B. Aldrich. There is no let up!'"

THE DAY IS NEVER SO DARK

The day is never so dark as the night, even, but that the laws at least of light still prevail, and so may make it light in our minds if they are open to the truth.—Thoreau.

Health Talks

BY WILLIAM BRADY, M. D.
Noted Physician and Author.

Dr. Brady will answer all signed letters pertaining to health. Writers' names are never printed. Only inquiries of general interest are answered in this column, but all letters will be answered by mail if written in ink and a stamped, self-addressed envelope is enclosed. Requests for diagnosis or treatment of individual cases cannot be considered. Address Dr. William Brady, in care of this paper.

DIFFICULTIES IN THE WAY

Writes a spoiled woman:
"I think you are entirely right in your stand against corsets, but there are difficulties in the way of putting your advice into effect, at least for one who has been wearing corsets for 10 years, tho it may be an easy matter for a young girl who has not yet adopted corsets."

"For instance, you advise wearing for the support or foundation of one's clothing 'such a waist as is commonly worn by children everywhere.' The Ferris waist, I assume, I've tried it, and while I admit its comfort, still it allows my stomach, or more correctly and spoil my appearance. Please, Dr. Brady, properly, my abdomen, to protrude rather prominently, if it is any sort of garment which will restrain or reduce me just a bit there without being harmful. How about the elastic girdles? I bought one containing four steels, two fore and two aft, then had cold feet and put it away in a drawer. I've worn corsets 12 years, and when I wear none I feel fine, except for the difficulty mentioned."

Twelve years of it would seem to be enough to spoil almost any woman. It takes approximately 10 years of artificial support with braces, casters, crutches, belly bands, chest protectors, brassieres, liver pads, shoulder braces, and the like, to suppress or smother reason, instinct or horse sense which assures normal individuals that no such support is necessary. Once upon a time, when men were more glib than they are now, and quick doctors were more brazen, a good many people were persuaded to purchase, at a prodigious price, a contraption called an electric belt, which assured wonderfully strengthening and invigorating effects.

Abdomens normally do protrude in healthy persons. The abdomen is a vitally important organ of respiration. It pumps air in and out of the lungs. A healthy woman breathes with her abdomen more than with her chest. Chest breathing is an abnormality, an artificiality, forced upon the civilized woman by her vicious custom of interfering with natural abdominal breathing. The interference of even a loose corset or other support of the abdominal and pelvic circulation, and thus accounts for most of the infectious pelvic disorders, irregularities and diseases of girls and women. Thousands of cases of dysmenorrhea, irregular or painful periods, are completely cured in a few months by the mere resumption of abdominal breathing, even when conditions have been aggravated by the use of various injurious "female tonics."

The trend of recent fashion in women's attire has been toward prominence of the abdomen.

A small abdomen, a slender waist, is, after all, a very healthy thing in a woman. From the viewpoint of beauty and art, just as ugly as is the now happily old-fashioned pointed shoe on a woman's foot, or the narrow French heel, which makes the foot look like a top heavy funnel boat.

A little exercise, just a reasonable amount of daily exercise, will support the abdomen and "restrain" more effectively than any appliance ever invented.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

Tumor

I have had for years a fatty tumor (lipoma) on my back which has never caused me any annoyance except from its size. Can you recommend any external application or internal remedy which would reduce it?—S. S. P.

Answer—Nothing will reduce it. Any doctor can remove it, under local anesthesia. It is foolish to be burdened with such a thing. A fatty tumor is practically harmless, aside from the embarrassment it may cause. "Tumor" is any lump or swelling, whether harmless or malignant. "Cancer" is a degeneration in some previously normal tissue or organ, and not to be confused with tumor.

A Man's Weight

How heavy should a man 70 inches tall and 30 years old be? I believe a man of that height and age who weighs over 200 pounds (fat, not muscle) cannot be perfectly healthy. Excessive fat must be a disease, the result of various defects or ills. How wrong am I?—B. H.

Answer—You are not at all wrong. The ideal or average weight for the man would be 160 pounds. He may carry excess weight up to a total of 185 pounds and still get by with an insurance company, for instance. But when he mounts above the 180 pound mark he is headed for calamity in the form of heart, arterial or nephritic lesions. His excess weight is stacked flesh—overweight and lack of daily exercise. It is popular, for a little while, and then pitiable. The man you describe is past the danger zone. He needs vigorous treatment—diet and exercise. Somebody ought to treat him rough.

Aging the Home Brew

How long should home brew be worked and how long should it be kept before it is wholesome to drink? My son starts drinking it when it is only a few hours old, and I have heard it is bad for the stomach so early. He can't make it fast enough as we live in an apartment.—Mrs. F. A.

Answer—It is bad for the stomach, and worse for the liver and kidneys, when only a few hours old; the bad effects increase with age, too.

Twenty-Five Years Ago

Wednesday, Sept. 23, 1896

Editor J. L. Toner of the Kaukauna Sun was in Appleton on business.

A son was born to Mr. and Mrs. Emil Peterson.

The Mike Bruerlagon farm in the town of Bovina was sold for a consideration of $3,500.

Warren B. Bullock was selected as local editor of the Lawrencean, the Lawrence university paper, for the ensuing term.

At the Wausau fair, E. S. Baer of Appleton won the mile handicap with Chandler of Wausau, second and Stoltz of Milwaukee, third.

Invitations were issued for the marriage of Miss Edith Beveridge, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Beveridge, to Frank Taylor which was to occur at the Congregational church, Wednesday, Oct. 7.

John Devereaux tendered his resignation as superintendent of the Fox River Paper Co.

Henry J. Stronk, formerly of Appleton, died the previous Sunday at his home at Williams, Ia.

Henry Hilfer of Kaukauna and Miss Abbie Seefeld of Neenah were married at the home of Dr. Orrin Thompson of Neenah.

A McKinley club was organized in the Fourth ward with Rufus King, president; Herman Getschow, secretary; and W. R. Bates, treasurer.

Paper manufacturers reported an improvement in business. Prices were no better, and collections were slow, but orders were coming in better and with less solicitation.

The new cement walks at the college grounds were traversable now, the principal avenues. It was expected that three weeks would be required to complete the walks connecting the observatory and the president's house with the main building.

NEW YORK'S FIRST RAILROAD.

The first railroad in New York state and one of the first passenger railroads in the United States was constructed of wooden rails from Albany to Schenectady a distance of 17 miles in 1831. Ten years later the Erie railroad was opened from Piermont to Goshen.

The Flood Problem

By Frederic J. Haskins

Washington, D. C.—Repeatedly during the past summer the front pages of the papers have been filled with the news of flood disasters.

Haskins

Any one can see that a great engineering problem faces the country. Leaving out the question of human life needlessly destroyed, the loss of property is enormous. The floods of 1913 are estimated to have done damage to the amount of $163,546,793. In Dayton alone the damage done amounted to $73,249,040. Between 1900 and 1908 the damage done by floods in the United States, as estimated by the Geological Survey, varied from a minimum of about $45,000,000 to a maximum of about $237,000,000. Plainly enough such losses are intolerable, and large expenditures for flood prevention would be an economy.

The facts of this large loss and the need for doing something about it are generally recognized. Wide publicity has been given to both. The House of Representatives has recently created a special committee on flood control, which may be taken as reliable evidence of the popular demand for some action in the matter. Millions of Americans have had the flood menace imparted upon them, not only by publicity but by actual experience. The number of American cities that have been flooded at one time or another is surprising.

Adequate action is of course dependent upon this public recognition of the need for it. The trouble seems to be that a great deal of misinformation has been disseminated as to the cause of floods and the means of preventing them, with the result that there has been no public demand for a really sound method of flood control.

A Public Illusion

Briefly, the public has been led to believe that floods have been on the increase for some years past, and that this increase is due to deforestation of the land, and to methods of cultivating it. Hence it is generally believed that reforestation and proper agricultural methods are the real methods of flood prevention.

As a matter of fact studies of floods made by scientific men both in this country and in Europe seem to prove conclusively that neither the size nor the frequency of floods has generally increased with deforestation and the cultivation of lands, that our flood disasters are due to the fact that we built our cities on flood plains without adequate protection, and that the only solution of the problem is to protect these cities by adequate engineering works for flood prevention.

It seems clear that forest conservationists have contributed a great deal to the popular misunderstanding. Their sincerity is not to be challenged. Neither is the importance of conserving the forests we have and of planting others to be questioned. But the condition of the forests does not have the decisive effect on floods which the public has been led to believe. This seems to be established by all the scientific studies that have been made of the matter.

Fairly complete flood records for the Mississippi River at St. Louis have been studied from 1830 to 1910, with some earlier records. During all that period the whole Mississippi Basin was being deforested. Yet the greatest floods occurred in 1844 and 1785, and a diagram shows that great floods have occurred at regular intervals since the beginning of the observations, with no general increase or decrease in either size or frequency. The same thing has been found true for the Ohio, Missouri and Connecticut Rivers. A study of floods on the Merimac River has shown that a deforestation of 25 per cent had no effect on them. Studies of floods on the Seine and the Danube in Europe for much longer periods corroborate these conclusions.

The Real Cause of Floods

The real cause of our flood disasters is that civilization has drawn the cities and homes down into the path of the floods, and that we have not given them protection. Railroads have followed the bottoms of valleys because the easiest grade is there, and the cities have been built down by the railroads instead of up on the hills, where more primitive men generally built their homes and cities.

Our valley cities are sure to be destroyed at regular intervals until all of them have been properly protected against floods. This is the fact which must be driven home. Floods are of form of history which may be confidently relied upon to prove it. Any dweller in an unprotected city or town in one of our great valleys can study a chart of floods that have occurred in the past and predict with accuracy when he will next need a rowboat or a life preserver. At least, he may predict how often he will need it in a given period of years. Scientists have even made formulas for predicting floods. It may be calculated that floods of the greatest size on a given river will occur, over a considerable stretch of time, once in every 25 years on an average. Those of the next magnitude will occur half as often on an average, and so on down. In the diagrams which have been prepared, it is remarkable how regularly the high-water marks occur.

There is no space in this article for an adequate discussion of the methods of flood prevention. There are two chief methods—dikes or levees and retaining basins. We have one of the greatest examples of the former in the jetties of the lower Mississippi. These have shown the limitations of such works. They afford local protection, but often serve to back the waters up in other places, causing floods where otherwise there would be none.

An excellent example of retaining basins is seen in those on the head of the Mississippi River, which were built primarily as aids to navigation, but have had a most important use in preventing floods. There are no retaining basins in this country built primarily for flood control, but numerous basins created for irrigation purposes, or to produce water power, have shown the great possibilities of this method of control. In Europe retaining basins have been used for flood control for a long time. It is to be hoped that the United States needs a great unified system of flood control, especially for the Mississippi drainage. Most persons do not realize what a large part of the United States this embraces. Waters rising to the surface as far west as Montana and New Mexico and as far east as Pennsylvania and West Virginia ultimately reach the Mississippi. It is in this great system of rivers that most of our floods occur. The Pueblo flood was a Mississippi Basin flood.

Obviously flood control in this great area must be handled as one problem. The methods adopted in each locality must be suited to its individual needs, but must also take into account its effect on the whole system. It is probable that retaining basins, many of which will also serve other purposes, such as irrigation or power production, will be the solution of the problem.

Q. What is considered proper cooling milk in buttermaking? T. N. L.

A. By proper cooling is meant cooling to 50 degrees F. or below immediately after milking.

Q. Does the Hickory Horned Devil turn into a butterfly, and if so what kind of a butterfly? R. L. C.

A. This worm turns, not into a butterfly, but into the Royal moth.

Q. How high do ocean rollers set and how long are they? C. B. R.

A. The Hydrographic Office says that the extreme height of ocean waves has been estimated at 30 feet, and their length at from 600 to 700 feet.

Q. Can shoes be made waterproof at home? N. D.

A. The Department of Agriculture says that either of these formulas is good: natural wool grease, 8 ounces; dark petrolatum, 4 ounces; paraffin wax, 4 ounces; or tallow, 12 ounces; cod oil, 4 ounces. The ingredients of either mixture should be melted and stirred thoroughly. Better penetration is obtained if applied while warm, but the grease should not be hotter than the hand can bear.

Q. Under what sign of the Zodiac was Caruso born, and were any other famous singers born under the same sign? T. R.

A. Caruso was born under the sign Pisces. Geraldine Farrar was also born under this sign.

Q. How many men did Germany lose in the World War? B. N. G.

A. According to what are said to be the final authoritative statistics concerning the losses of Germany in the World War, the lost dead numbered 1,808,545 of whom 52,006 were officers. Nearly 25 per cent of the officers participating in the war are on the death roll.

Q. Has the Congressional Library ever been burned? E. L. C.

A. The building which now houses the Library of Congress has never been destroyed by fire. Until 1897 when this building was completed, the library remained in the Capitol. There, it was destroyed in 1814 when the Capitol was burned, and again in 1851, a fire reduced it to 20,000 volumes. It now contains nearly 3,000,000 books, charts, maps pieces of music, etc., etc.

Q. Why does the United States Government put a war tax on glasses when they are not a luxury but a necessity? H. P.

A. Eye glasses are taxable if mounted in gold or silver. When they are mounted in anything else they are not taxable. The new law which has not yet passed Congress specifically exempts eye glasses and spectacles. They are as cheap as fish skin to Tobsters? C. G. S.

Q. Shrimps, prawns, and crayfish are allied to the lobster, the crayfish often being called fresh water lobster.

Q. Of what material are most of the buildings in London made? P. L. L.

A. All parts of London are alike in the fact that most of the buildings are made of brick. There are a few stone buildings near by, so the stone for the finer buildings must be brought from a distance. The smoke-laden London fog blackens the entire city although the West End suffers least in this respect.

Married at Church

The wedding of Miss Dorothy Van to Oscar Wettengel son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Wettengel, 545 Cherry-st., took place at Sacred Heart church at 8:30 Wednesday morning. The Rev. Frederick Ruessmann performed the ceremony. They were attended by Miss Genevieve Vanderlinden, sister of the bride and Herbert Haebig, Waupaca.

The young couple left on an auto trip after the wedding breakfast served at the home of the bride's parents to the immediate family. They will make their home in Oshkosh.

Miss Vanderlinden wore a gown of white satin cordon crepe and a veil. She carried a shower bouquet of Opheelia roses. Her sister wore white georgette crepe with a picture hat. She carried an arm bouquet.

Discuss Program

The program of the Appleton Business and Professional Women's club for the year will be discussed at the short business meeting which will take place after the picnic supper at the high school Wednesday evening. Special entertainment features for the evening will follow the business meeting.

H. T. D. Club

The H. T. D. club, composed of a group of young ladies, held its first meeting Monday evening at the home of Miss Mathilda Schmid, Second-st. The hostess was elected treasurer to fill a vacancy that had existed for some time. The meeting next Monday evening will be held at the home of Miss Anna Paltzer, Richmond-st.

Big Five Dance

Arrangements have been completed for the dancing party to be given by the Big Five club Friday evening in Armory C. The Deep Water orchestra, a northern group which has become popular in Escanaba and upper peninsula towns during the summer, will furnish the music.

Entertains Friends

Miss Eleanor Utshug entertained 15 couples at a party Tuesday evening at her home in Town of Grand Chute, in honor of the Misses Hilda-garde and Valina Oelrich. Dancing and games furnished entertainment after which luncheon was served.

Five Hundred Club

Mrs. Walter Miller was hostess to the Five Hundred club at her home, 388 Harris-st., Tuesday night. Prizes were won by Mrs. Lawrence Koss and Mrs. Walter Miller. Mrs. Harry Tretin will entertain the club next Tuesday evening.

Junior Hi-Y

Last year's Junior Hi-Y club, the members of which are now eligible to senior membership will hold its first meeting of the season Wednesday evening at the Y. M. C. A. Plans for the affiliation of the club with the senior organization will be voted upon.

Christian Mothers Party

The Christian Mothers will give their first card party of the season at St. Joseph hall, Wednesday evening, Sept. 21. Schafkopf, bridge, cinch and dice will be played and prizes will be awarded. Lunch will be served.

Union Elects

The Women's Union of the First Baptist church held its annual meeting at the home of Mrs. S. R. Wagg, 450 College ave. Tuesday afternoon. Reports of committees and election of officers took place at the business meeting. Mrs. J. D. Laughlin was elected president. Mrs. R. C. Clark, vice president, Mrs. A. M. Packard, secretary, Mrs. George Payzant, assistant secretary and Mrs. Henry Culver, treasurer.

Engagement Announced

Mr. and Mrs. William Guild Simmons gave a reception at their home at 170 Barrie-st., Kingston, Ont., Saturday at which they announced the engagement of their daughter, Miss Katherine Jeanette Simmons to Homer H. Benton of this city. The wedding is to occur sometime in December. Mr. Benton is counsel for the Rosebush interests and secretary of the Northern Paper Mills, Green Bay.

Physical Examination

Girls who are going to play basketball with the Appleton Women's club teams will have their physical examinations at the office of Dr. G. A. Ritchie, Monday night. They will have their first tryout games at the high school on Thursday, Sept. 23.

Marshmallow Roast

The Misses Deane and Tone Rohm entertained 24 friends at a marshmallow roast at their home in Black Creek Sunday evening. The party

12 WERE MODELS IN STYLE EXHIBIT

Displaying a great variety of stylish clothes, 12 models took part in the style exposition at Terrace Garden Tuesday night. They were the Misses Korine Curtis, Selma Weiland, Bernice Adsit, Lolita Peterson, Marcella Kaufman, Mrs. Eric Lindberg and Mrs. Albert Ness of Appleton, Miss A. Rogers and Mrs. Ray Lenz of Neenah, Miss Sadie Platky of Green Bay, Miss Marion DeLosche of New London and Miss M. Harris of Chicago.

Miss Curtis in black riding costume, accompanied by Miss Adsit in red and white sports costume and Miss Weiland in black and white sports costume took part in the introduction. The models then showed fur trimmed suits in brown, black and blues, followed by afternoon dresses in dark colors, many of which were beaded and embroidered. After a solo by Miss Curtis in a rose and silver party gown, the models again appeared in cloth and fur wraps, then street dresses. Miss Curtis again appeared for a solo, this time in a black velvet street dress with a black pan velvet hat trimmed with monkey fur. For the finale, the models wore evening gowns and sang the style show song.

Kaufman's ready to wear store furnished the garments. The show will be repeated on Wednesday night.

TWO APPOINTMENTS ARE MADE BY GOV. BLAINE

Madison—Governor Blaine Tuesday appointed T. J. Cunningham, Chippewa Falls, as state oil inspector to succeed Senator Barney Moran, and former Assemblyman C. B. Try Breast Of Lamb

Breast of lamb is an inexpensive cut to buy. Rolled and stuffed or served in a casserole with peas the breast rivals the more expensive chops and roasts.

KITCHEN

Lamb is best and cheapest in the summer months and should be used in place of pork. If the cheaper cuts are cooked in a fireless cooker, the long time required for cooking causes no discomfort to the cook.

Breast of Lamb

One and one-half pounds breast of lamb, ¼ pound bacon, 2 pounds green peas, 2 sprigs mint, 1 little onion, salt and pepper.

Remove the skin from the meat. Put into boiling water and simmer for ten minutes. Cut bacon in very thin slices and line the bottom of a casserole and mixed onion. Cover with ole. Add meat, season with salt and thin slices of bacon. Pour over the broth the meat was parboiled in. Cover tightly and cook in a moderate oven for an hour. Add peas and mint minced and cook half an hour longer. For the finale, the models wore evening gowns and sang the style show song.

Kaufman's ready to wear store furnished the garments. The show will be repeated on Wednesday night.

meat would be inexpensive, nourishing and appetizing.

Stuffed Breast of Lamb

Breast of lamb, 2 onions, 2 carrots, 1 small turnip, parsley, bay-leaf, 6 pepper-corns, 2 tablespoons butter, 1 cup soft bread crumbs, 2 slices bacon, 1 egg, pepper, milk.

Remove bones from meat and simmer bones for half an hour. Strain and reserve stock. Mix bread crumbs and bacon put through a food chopper. Season with pepper and add egg. Mix well and add enough milk to make moist. Spread this mixture on the meat. Roll and tie. Cut onions, carrots and turnip in thin slices. Melt butter in casserole and add vegetables. Put meat on bed of vegetables, pour over stock and cook in a slow oven for two and one-half hours. If lean there is more nourishment in the dish.

Blanquette of Lamb

Two pounds breast of lamb, 1 onion, parsley, thyme, bay-leaf, pepper-corns, 2 cup stock, 2 tablespoons butter, 1 tablespoon flour, 1 egg yolk, 2

Cut meat in pieces about 2 inches square and put in a stew-pan sliced onion, herbs and pepper-corns. Cover with water and simmer for 2 hours. Skim meat from broth and arrange

VISITORS SPEAK TO ROTARY CLUB

Members of the industrial relations committee of the Wisconsin conference of the Congregational church were guests of the Rotary club at the weekly luncheon Tuesday noon in the Y. M. C. A. The committee held its regular fall meeting in the afternoon in the office of Dr. H. E. Peabody, chairman.

Informal talks were given by Dr. Peabody, who explained the purpose and work of the committee by George W. Mead, Wisconsin Rapids, and Dr. T. M. Shippard, Milwaukee. Mr. Mead explained the manner of handling labor matters in the papermills of which he is the head, and gave many interesting facts on the industrial situation.

Sizzly Dry Weather

There was one Nuisance Fairy who had given very little trouble. All the time that Jack Frost was cutting up his antics in the spring and Old Man Flood was out tearing around, he dozed and nodded and didn't take an interest in anything. And when Howly Thunder and Jumpy Lightning got out the bass-drum and flash-light and started off on a grand parade, dumping over Sprinkle-Blow's barrel marked "Hard Storms" and pouring rain down on the earth, this fellow went sound asleep. You'd have thought he'd never wake up.

But after the blossoms had come and gone on the trees and little hard green balls appeared in their places (which would one day be apples, peaches, pears, cherries or plums) and after Farmer Smith's sassa-patch garden had a good start, and after the little pinky, greeny, whitey, blue speckled eggs in the nests had cracked open to let out all sorts of fuzzy youngsters (screaming their heads off for worms), this old fairy stirred.

He got up out of his big easy chair and stretched and yawned and blew his hot breath out in great puffs and said he believed that he'd take his turn getting some exercise. The other Nuisance Fairies crowded into a corner when he passed and no one interfered. Out he marched and down the road and past the house of Sprinkle-Blow, the Weatherman. Nancy and Nevk were looking out of the window and saw him "What a funny looking old man," exclaimed Nancy pointing. "It's all dried up looking."

Sprinkle-Blow came and looked, too. "My land o' gracious!" he cried. "It's Old Sizzly Dry Weather. Now we are in for it. He's the hardest on of all to manage because he's as stubborn as forty mules and insists on having his own way."

Green Bay—One hundred former service men stormed the federal building here on the opening day of the hearings before a "cleanup squad" to speed up claims regarding disabilities incurred in the war. Each day will be devoted to hearing men from different counties.

GOVERNOR IS LENIENT TO THREE PRISONERS

Madison—Gov. Eklund Tuesday announced one pardon, a conditional pardon, and a commutation of sentence. Alvin Bartels, Waukesha, was freed for dynamiting fish. John Trusdell, Milwaukee, was conditionally freed and Francis Burns, LaCrosse, sentenced for burglary, was commuted from ten to five years.

WORLD WAR HERO BURIED TUESDAY

Requiem Solemn High Mass is Held for Private Peter VanLinn

Kaukauna—Funeral services for Private Peter Van Linn, who died in the service in France, were held at 9 o'clock Monday morning from St. Mary church where requiem solemn high mass was said by the Rev. F. N. Steinbrecher, assisted by the Rev. Father Hunk of Luxemburg and the Rev. Father Raymaker, Van Linn, who was 20 years old at the time of his death, was buried in St. Mary cemetery with full military honors, the Kaukauna post of the American legion taking charge of the funeral. A squad fired a military salute at the grave and taps was sounded by two buglers.
Palbearers were Samuel Casey, Al Wyro, Edward Flien, Henry Biese, Martin Ver Houven and Harold Birkemeyer.

Peter Van Linn is survived by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Van Linn; four sisters, Mrs. Albert Tiesing, Hollandtown; Mrs. Carl Ver Berkel, Little Chute; Mrs. Joseph Wellhouse, Kaukauna; Mrs. Herman Jan sen, Combined Locks; William, International Falls, Minn.; Edward and Henry at home.

Infant Dies
George Key, 6 months-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Scott Key, town of Kaukauna, died Monday morning. Funeral services were held at 8 o'clock Wednesday morning from St. Paul church in Wrightstown. Burial was in Wrightstown cemetery. The baby is survived by his parents, five brothers and three sisters.

Heiting-Peters Wedding
The marriage of Miss Anna Heiting to Albert Peters of Rudolph, occurred at 5 o'clock Tuesday morning in St. Mary church. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Frank Peters of Freedom, an uncle of the groom. The bride and bridegroom were attended by Miss Elizabeth Heiting and William Heiting. Miss Josephine Vander Loop, cousin of the bridegroom, was bridesmaid and Henry Heiting, the bride's brother, acted as best man. The bride was attired in a gray tulle suit and wore a hat to match. She carried a bridal bouquet of roses. The bridesmaids carried bouquets of asters.

A wedding reception for friends and relatives was held at the home of the bride's parents on Reaullieu hill, following the ceremony. Dinner and supper was served and an evening of dancing and social entertainment was enjoyed by about 150 persons.

Out of town guests included Mr. and Mrs. William Peters and Mr. and Mrs. Peter Peters, Rudolph; Mr. and Mrs. Albert Ver Bockel, DePere; Ben and Elmer Van Deyacht and Albert Peters, Rudolph.

Mr. and Mrs. Peters left Wednesday morning on a wedding trip to Chicago and will be at home in Rudolph after Oct. 1.

BAG MILL RESUMES WITH FULL FORCE

Ten-month Shutdown of Large Kaukauna Plant Ended Wednesday Morning

Kaukauna—Just 10 months from the day it closed its doors to workmen, the Union Bag and Paper Corporation on Wednesday morning again resumed operations with practically a full force of workmen in the pulp and paper department. All the old hands laid off in the winter were taken back and a few new workmen hired. All machines are now in operation and it is expected the mill will continue to run until it is once more working at capacity.

The uncertainty of the water supply will be the only problem with which the corporation will have to contend. The bag department of the mill is not yet employing its full force but resumption of activities will greatly relieve the employment situation in Kaukauna. Between forty and forty-five men reported for duty.

Hit by Auto
Hugh Lambie was seriously but not dangerously injured about 3 o'clock Tuesday afternoon when he was struck by an automobile. He was immediately taken to a doctor's office and later to St. Elizabeth hospital in Appleton where the extent of his injuries will be determined. Mr. Lambie probably will be laid up for sometime.

C. O. F. Meeting
A regular meeting of Holy Cross court No. 309, Catholic Order of Foresters, was held Monday evening in the lodge rooms. Routine business was disposed of.

Kaukauna Personals
Mrs. William Babbler and Miss Ruth Babbler left Tuesday for Minneapolis, Minn., where Miss Babbler will attend school.

John N. Cleland is in Ontario, Can. where he was called by the serious illness of his father and uncle. Neither is expected to recover.

Sophomores Elect
Robert McCarthy was elected president of the sophomore high school class at a meeting held Tuesday afternoon. Prunice Hale was elected vice president, Allen Bliss, secretary-treasurer and Olive Gerhart and John Parent were elected to represent the class in the student council.

Picnic for Teachers
Teachers of Park school and high school will hold a "get acquainted" wiener roast on the river bank Thursday afternoon and in the evening. There are several new teachers in the schools this term.

Social Dance
A social dance will be given Friday evening in Eagle hall. Music will be furnished by Mill's orchestra.

Birthday Party
Darold Omar Taussey entertained at a party for his kindergarten friends Wednesday afternoon at Park school on his fourth birthday anniversary. Games were played and refreshments were served.

STATE GRAIN SHOW IS SET FOR JAN. 24 TO 28

Green Bay—J. N. Kavanaugh, county agricultural agent, has received word from Madison that the state grain show will be held in Green Bay Jan. 24 to 28, 1922, inclusive. This city was chosen for the show several months ago, and now with the dates selected, plans for making this the greatest event in state grain show history will go forward rapidly. Exhibits will be received beginning Jan. 17. Judging will start on Jan. 21. The show will be held in the armory here and hundreds of farmers from all over the state will attend. Nearly every county in the state is expected to enter exhibits.

LAST RITES HELD FOR GREEN BAY OFFICIAL

Special to Post-Crescent
Green Bay—Flags on all public buildings were at half mast on Tuesday in respect to Green Bay's vice mayor, Winford Abrams, for whom funeral services were to be held at 3 o'clock.
The Rev. Mager McMurray of the Episcopal church was to have charge of the services at the house and the Elks' service was to be carried out at Woodlawn cemetery.
Mr. Abrams served Green Bay as Mayor eight years, longer than any other man, and was connected with the city government from 1902 until his death.

SAYS HER RECOVERY IS ALMOST LIKE A MIRACLE

From Helpless Invalid to Complete Restoration of Health, Strength and Happiness is Wonderful Change Mrs. Root Experienced in Three Weeks—Statement One of Most Remarkable on Record.

Mrs. Jennie Root

"Just a week before I started taking Tanlac I was down in bed so crippled up with rheumatism I could not move without help. My son had taken Tanlac, and it had done him a world of good, so one day he brought home a bottle and said, 'Mother, I want you to take this.' When I had finished that bottle, I felt like a different woman, and by the time I had finished my second bottle, I was out in the garden hoeing.
"Tanalac has simply done wonders for me; it almost seems like a miracle." This is the remarkable statement made recently by Mrs. Jennie Root, residing at 1400 Powers St., Portland, Oregon, and is only one of tens of thousands from well-known men and women who are daily testifying to the powers of Tanlac.
Continuing her wonderful statement, Mrs. Root said, "For years I suffered terribly with rheumatism, and would often be down in bed for days at a time. In the last five years there was not a time that I didn't feel those rheumatic pains all through my body. About two months ago I got very much worse and my arms and legs were so bad I was almost helpless, and couldn't even hold a pen to sign my name. I was so weak I could not do any housework. I couldn't even sleep, and had no rest day or night. Even to walk a few steps would tire me out completely. When I tried to walk I would stagger, and when I did walk a little way and sat down I could not get up without some one helping me. I had no appetite and hardly ate enough to keep me alive. I could not stoop over far enough to get my shoes on.
"I never knew what a night's sleep was, and would lie awake for hours. At times I would get very cold and would have to get up and sit by the fire all huddled up, and my daughters would put hot water bottles all around me. I was treated by four doctors, and took all kinds of medicine. Nothing ever did me any good. I am just like a different person now. All those terrible aches and pains have left me, and only the other day I was able to walk up four flights of stairs in an office building when the elevator was out of order.
"My appetite is just splendid now, and just today for the first time in years, I felt so hungry that I had to go and eat a piece of pie between meals. In fact, I can't remember the time that I have felt as well as I do now. I have not only regained my health and strength, but I have gained fourteen pounds in weight. To tell you the truth, I wouldn't exchange the benefit I have received from Tanlac for the best ranch in Oregon, and I will praise it as long as I live."
Tanalac is sold in Appleton by Voigt Drug Co., and by leading druggists everywhere. adv.

RAILROADS ARE PARTIAL TO G. A. R.

Ask Higher Rates for Women of Auxiliaries to Indianapolis Gathering

Local members of the Woman's Relief Corps, J. T. Reeve Circle and other auxiliary organizations of the Grand Army of the Republic are up in arms over the action of the railway companies in discriminating against them as to rates to the national encampment at Indianapolis Sept. 25-29.

Members of Grand Army Posts and their wives have been granted a flat rate of one cent a mile each way which from Appleton will make the round trip close to $8. Members of auxiliary organizations have been granted fare and one-half for the round trip which will make their rate close to $20.

Protests from all parts of the country over this discrimination have been filed with the railway companies but they have had no effect. As a usual thing heretofore the number of ladies attending the national encampments exceeded the number of veterans, but it is not expected that such will be the case this year.

Several members of the George D. Eggleston Post will attend, among them Dennis Meldam and E. Wilder, but as yet it is not definitely known how many delegates the auxiliary or organizations will send.

COMBINED LOCKS FORMS NEW G. OF C.

Former Park Association Reorganized and Will Acquire Added Property

At a meeting of the incorporators and members of the chamber of commerce of Combined Locks at the school building in that village Monday night, a board of directors was elected consisting of D. J. Ryan, Charles Pein, Paul Smith, Peter Vandenberg, Albert Piepenberg, William Erickson and Nic Lom. The directors will meet within the next three days and elect their officers.

The organization starts out with a charter membership of 48 and takes the place of the former park association which had quite a sum of money in its treasury. The chamber of commerce contemplates acquiring a desirable piece of property as one of its first official acts and will devote all its energies to the upbuilding of the village it represents.

Residents of Hortonville, Larsen, Allenville, Medina and adjoining territory have had their former train service on the Oshkosh-Hortonville cut-off restored as the result of the hearing before the Wisconsin railroad commission at Oshkosh, Sept. 7.

The ruling of the commission which has just been announced provides for complete restoration of the service of two trains daily each way between Oshkosh and Hortonville within a period of three days.

For the last two months the railway company had been operating only one train, claiming the former schedule was a losing proposition. The mail service was such under the new arrangement that residents were unable to get their Appleton and Oshkosh daily papers until two days after they were published. The passenger service was equally undesirable.

John I. Beggs At 74 Still Likes To Tackle Big Jobs

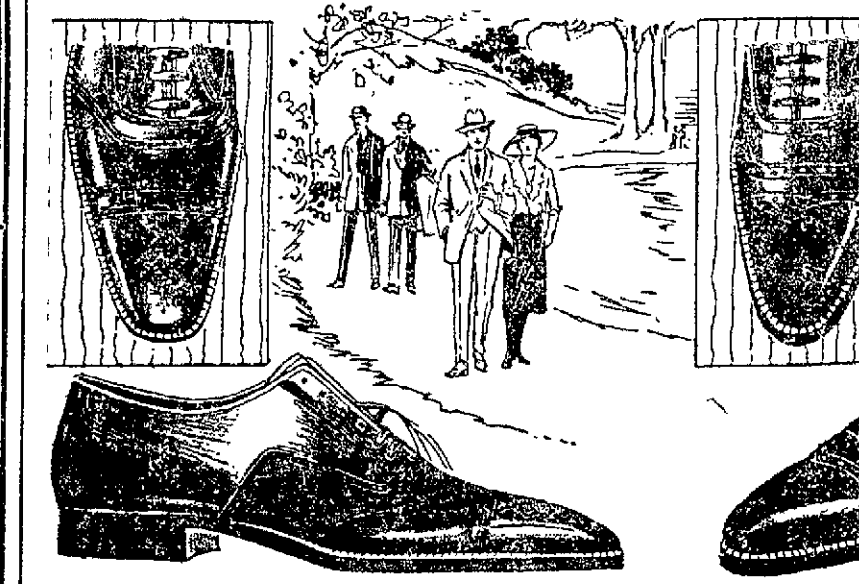

Head of Appleton Traction Lines Has Had Wide Record of Achievement

John I. Beggs, president of the Wisconsin Traction Light Heat and Power company which has owned and operated Appleton's street car service for the last 25 years, last Saturday celebrated his seventy-fourth birthday at his home in Milwaukee. In spite of his age, the traction magnate is still spoken of as a "dynamo of action."

The present state of efficiency of the local traction system is largely due to Mr. Beggs' supervision and influence which he has brought to bear on many knotty problems connected with electric transportation. Interurban lines out of Appleton have maintained a high efficiency record as a result of methods instituted by the company's chief. Probably no other interurban system in the state maintains as good a record for winter operation as is maintained by these lines.

Work is the leading habit which dominates John Beggs' life. This is attributed to the fact that he was forced to begin work when left an orphan at the age of seven. The habit of work was thus acquired early and still strikes so at the age of 74 he would rather work than rest.

STONE FOR ROADS SHIPPED BY BOAT

Harbor Is Completed at High Cliff—Quarry Can't Fill Many Demands

The Wisconsin Lime & Cement Co. of High Cliff has been compelled to work overtime this season in order to keep pace with its orders for crushed stone for highway construction. At present it is shipping 175 tons daily by boat to Oshkosh, Winneconne and Berlin and 75 tons by teams to nearby points.

The company recently completed excavating for a harbor for its plant and the first boatload of stone was shipped out August 14. Since that date boats have been making regular trips to cities on the opposite side of the lake. The call for stone by boat and team has been so great the company has found it impossible to do any shipping by rail notwithstanding it has had several opportunities to do so.

The company has equipped its plant with electric loading devices and later in the season will erect a large warehouse at its dock.

ITCHING ECZEMA DRIED RIGHT UP WITH SULPHUR

Any breaking out of the skin, even fiery, itching eczema, can be quickly overcome by applying a little Menthosulphur, says a noted skin specialist. Because of its germ destroying properties, this sulphur preparation instantly brings ease from skin irritation, soothes and heals the eczema, right up and leaves the skin clear and smooth. It seldom fails to relieve the torment and disfigurement. Sufferers from skin trouble should get a little jar of Menthosulphur from any good druggist and use it like a cold cream.

BOMBING PLANE HAS SURPASSED BIG NAVAL GUNS

Tests Show Big Airships Can Cause More Destruction at Less Cost.

Special to Post-Crescent
Washington—The big gun, as a projector of destructive missiles, has been surpassed by the bomb-bearing airplane.

Recent tests have proved this beyond dispute.

The biggest guns, either in the navy or in coast fortifications, fire projectiles 15 inches in diameter weighing 2,100 pounds.

The latest model bombing planes, however, can launch a projectile of twice the weight and four times the destructive force of the launch high explosive shell.

These monster bombs measure just one inch less than 14 feet in length and have a body diameter of 23 inches.

Unlike the high explosive shell, the airplane bomb is virtually all explosive.

Cheap by Comparison

The 4,000 pound bomb, for instance, exclusive of the head, which contains the fuse cap, and the rudder-like tail which steers it in flight, is made from 3 1/2 inch drawn steel tubing. Except for this thin wall, the entire 23 inches of its body diameter is crammed with TNT, making a simple and comparatively cheap engine of destruction.

The high explosive shell, however, for firing from high-calibered guns, must be finely machined to insure accuracy and safety. It can contain a much smaller bulk of explosive for destructive purposes than an airplane bomb, and it requires from $150 to $300 worth of powder to send it on its way.

A 14 inch navy gun costs unmounted, about $200,000. The 12 inch costs somewhat less, the 16 inch somewhat more. Mounted these big guns stand Uncle Sam close to a quarter of a million each.

Their maximum effective range may be set down as 20 miles. Even that is not possible without the assistance of aircraft as range-finders.

Difference in Price

For the cost of one of these big guns, ten bombing planes capable of carrying 4,000 pound bombs in a flight of four hours can be built. These planes have a radius of attack of about 200 miles.

The life of the $250,000 big gun is about 100 shots.

The life of the $25,000 bombing plane is about 1,000 hours of firing, or 100,000.

The comparative personnel required to maintain and crew the big gun or the big plane is not far different. The present bombing plane has reached its present development in 10 years. The big gun has reached its present stage in 1,000 years.

These are facts the government's military experts have before them as they work on our future armament policy.

RUSSIA HAS EYE ON ARMS PARLEY

Leaders Will Tell Conference What They Think Russia's Interests Include

Special to Post-Crescent

By Norris Quinn

Washington—Alekseyev, Korensky and Paul Mikhokoff, leaders of the Russian provisional government, are eyeing the coming international conference on disarmament and Far Eastern affairs with interest from their places of exile in London and Paris.

They probably will take a hand in the conference and will open discussion along lines the conference had not planned to touch, says M. M. Karpovitch, an attaché of the Russian provisional embassy here.

Korensky and Mikhokoff will not come to Washington. They will not send a delegation. But they will dispatch to Secretary of State Charles D. Hughes by cable or courier a memorandum setting forth what they hold to be Russia's Far Eastern interests.

They will point out that under the czar Russia was considered one of the most important Asiatic powers. Scarcely a single decision can be reached by the conference without affecting Russia's interests, they will say. As matters of special interest to Russia they will cite:

ONE—Japanese occupation of Siberia.

TWO—Operation of the Chinese Eastern Railway.

THREE—Status of Russian citizens in China.

Russians of all factions object strenuously to Japanese troops in the Siberian mainland.

Participation by Russia in the conference brings the number of nations taking part unofficially to five. The other four are:

HOLLAND, which wants its colonial interests in the Far East given consideration.

BELGIUM, which has similar colonial interests.

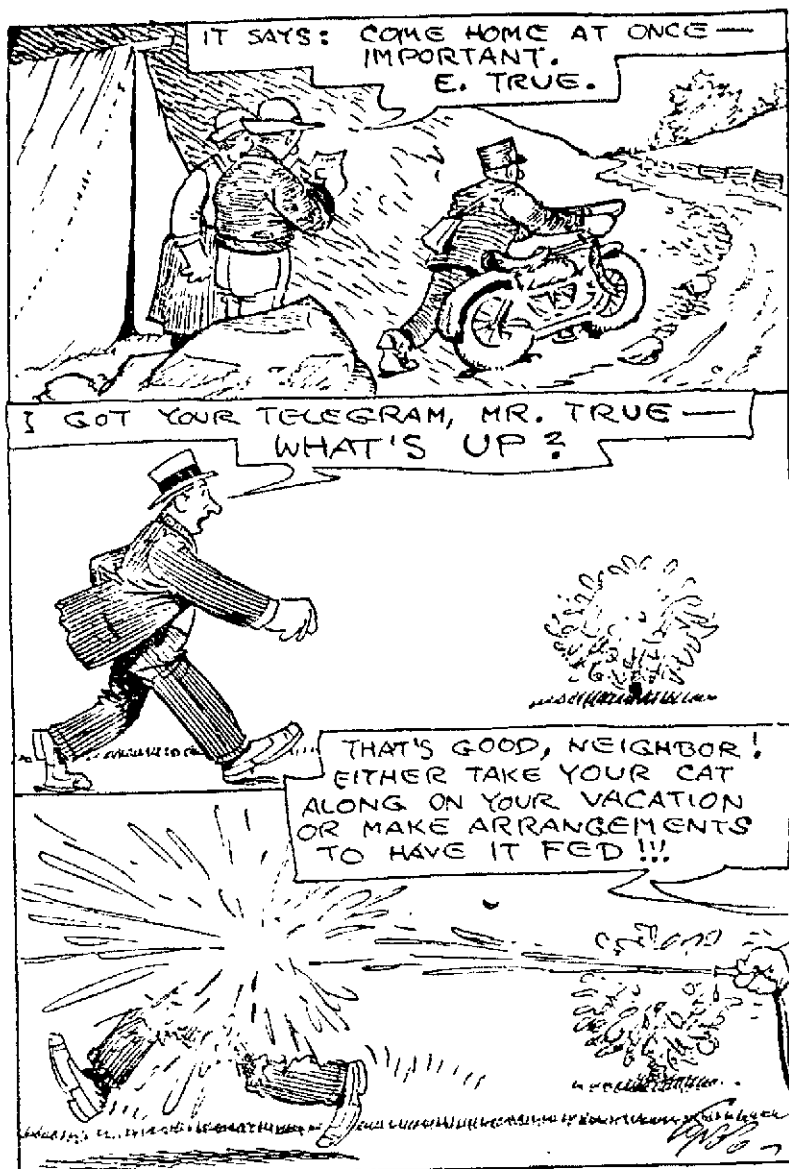

KOREA, whose nationalist leaders will ask independence from Japan.

SOUTH CHINA, or the Cantonese government, which will demand an equal voice in the conference with the North Chinese, or "official," Chinese government with seat at Peking.

Alert Physician Discovered Feeding Method Which Broke Cretin Spell.

By C. C. Lyon

Special to Post-Crescent

Columbus, O.—Maybe the day is already here when short men can make six-footers out of themselves merely by taking a few pills.

Science has recently achieved some wonderful results along the line of growth control. And it is on the verge of further important discoveries.

Nothing could be more amazing than the cases of the two Ephraim children of New Philadelphia.

—Anna May, 10 years 6 months old, and Bertha, 6 years 4 months old.

Just 12 months ago they were babies in arms. Anna May was almost the exact height of a 13-month-old baby of a neighbor across the street, while Bertha was even smaller.

Today Anna May is as large as a normal five-year-old child and Bertha as a four-year-old.

Classed as Cretins

They were not dwarfs. They were classed as cretins. From infancy they had failed to grow, either physically or mentally. The medical profession studied them frequently, but failed to find the secret.

In September, 1920, the two "children" were brought to the State Bureau of Juvenile Research and placed under observation by Dr. H. H. Goddard, head of the institution.

Goddard is not a physician, but he is recognized as one of the world's greatest psychologists.

Goddard soon announced that the children had no "thyroid glands."

The question came from all quarters: "What have thyroid glands to do with it?"

"They haven't," said Goddard, "is a gland in the neck. For a long time it has been known to have a distinct effect upon growth and it has been known that cretinism (Cretins) to grow has been due either to the absence or disease of this gland."

Feeds Children Glands

Goddard hit upon the idea of feeding the two retarded children extracts of thyroid glands taken from lambs and calves.

The treatment was prepared in the form of pills and the mother, Mrs. W. H. Hays, took the children home with the instructions to give them each one pill a day—three each meal.

Let the happy mother tell the rest of the story.

Dr. Goddard's wonderful pills made Anna May grow three inches the first 21 days of the treatment and ten inches during the first seven months.

In a few days it will be just one year since she started taking the pills and she is now fully 14 inches taller and weighs 112 as an ordinary five-year-old child.

"Bertha hasn't grown so fast physically, although she is now the size of a normal four-year-old child, but her mental development has been faster than Anna May's."

Growing Like Weeds

"A year ago my two little girls had the bodies and minds of mere babies," while now they are really "growing like weeds" and are beginning to talk. Their mental development has been amazing in so short a time. I am confident that in a few years, under Dr. Goddard's treatment, they will be entirely normal."

Mrs. Ephraim has an older daughter, Freda, who is normal in every respect and who, at 12 years of age, is in the eighth grade at school.

WETS PLANNING WORLD-WIDE BODY

International Meeting in Switzerland Will Combat Prohibition Spread

By Milton Bronner

(Special to Post-Crescent)

London — The International Anti-Prohibition Office is to coordinate facts and figures and bring closer cooperation between the wet forces throughout the entire world.

It may be established in Switzerland as a result of the big world conference of wets to be held at Lausanne, Sept. 23 and 24.

This will be the first wet international meeting ever held.

For 16 years the dries have held such conferences; the last being at Lausanne several weeks ago.

At this dry meeting 500 delegates were welcomed by the president of the Swiss republic and 22 governments sent official delegations, including the United States, France, Belgium, Holland, Germany, Poland, Switzerland and Scandinavian States.

Dry Students' League

It decided to form the World's Student Federation against alcoholism, of which Harry Warner, of the United States, was made general secretary.

Its purpose is to create, propagate and deepen among university students the study of causes, effects and prevention of alcoholism.

Partially aroused by this and particularly by spread of dry campaigns since America became dry, the wet forces decided also to meet at Lausanne.

The sponsors were the International Committee of Commerce in Wines, Liquors and Spirits, with headquarters at Paris, and the National Association of Swiss Anti-Prohibitionists.

Count De Mun, of Paris, president of the international committee, will open the meeting, followed by R. Von Tobel, president of the Swiss wets.

General Reports

General reports are to be made on state of wet organizations and their activities in France, Holland, Switzerland, England, Belgium, Italy, Spain, Portugal, Rumania, Greece, Czechoslovakia, Yugoslavia, Poland and Argentina and singularly enough — the United States and Canada.

But most of the time will be spent in considering the International Anti-Prohibition Office, whose chief functions will be to coordinate in the fight against the dry wave.

The recent dry convention at Lausanne forgot old war enemies, the Germans partaking on equal terms with the French and English.

In the wet convention it will go a step farther. French, Italian and German are to be the official languages.

Official figures of earlier years show that steam railways cause more industrial fatalities than any other big industrial group and that fatalities are least frequent in the ore dressing industry.

The industrial hygiene section of the United States Public Health Service is doing its utmost to bring down the appalling total of accidents and fatalities.

Burglars Don't Seek The Limelight

Darkness is their stock in trade. They work by stealth—unheard and unseen—their movements cloaked in secrecy. It's honest folks that seek the light. They are the only ones who can risk it.

It's the same way in business. The manufacturer or the merchant who is not sure of his goods does not dare to advertise. Advertising would hasten the end of his business career—put him to a test he could not meet.

The man who advertises, deliberately invites your inspection. He tells you about his product or his merchandise and then lets it stand on its own merits. You can depend on him. He knows his product is good.

That's one reason why it pays you to read the advertisements you find in the columns of this paper. It is through advertising that you are able to keep in touch with the good things that progressive business men are spending their money to introduce and to keep before you.

Advertisements are interesting, instructive and profitable. They throw a powerful light on the very things that concern you most. Read them.

2 TEAMS CONTEST CITY TITLE CLAIM

Foresters and Interlakes Want Test Games With West End Merchants

To what baseball team does the city championship belong?

The West End Merchants claim the title by virtue of their victory over the Appleton Catholic Order of Foresters nine last Sunday and their declared victory over the Jesss Arcade team.

Manager Joseph Langenberg of the Foresters club challenges the Merchants to another game for the decision, providing the losers forfeit $100. He declares the Foresters did not meet the Merchants with their regular lineup and cannot therefore concede loss of the title. Next Sunday the Foresters will play St. Lawrence academy nine at Calgary and will have their regular players on the

SORORITY GIRLS SELLING TICKETS

City and Nearby Towns Will be Canvassed in Artist Series Sale

Season tickets for the Community Lecture and Artist series went on sale at the Y. M. C. A. Wednesday morning. At the same time, 21 members of Mu Phi Epsilon sorority of Lawrence Conservatory of Music began making personal calls at every home in Appleton to sell season tickets.

The sorority girls have divided the city into districts, assigning a district to each of its members. Any one who is not at home when the solicitor calls or who is missed in any way may be sure of his ticket by purchasing it at the Y. M. C. A.

Neenah, Menasha, Kaukauna and New London people will be solicited by the organization which has undertaken the season ticket sale. Mail or iamonds at that time. They are willing to meet the Merchants at any other time than this.

The Interlake nine also contests the Merchants' claim to the championship. They allege that in their recent game, the Merchants left the field in the fourth inning when the score stood 5 to 4 in favor of the Merchants. They are confident they would defeat the Merchants in nine innings, and declare their willingness to play on neutral ground under an impartial umpire at any time agreed upon.

THE GREAT AMERICAN HOME

FOLLOWS PARENTS IN STAGE CAREER

Cornelia Skinner, Daughter of Otis Skinner, Makes Theatrical Debut.

By Alice Roche
Special to Post-Crescent
New York—Like father like child—yes, and also like mother, like child. Cornelia Skinner makes her first public appearance on the stage with her father this season in "Blood and Sand."

I don't Miss Skinner the eyes of the art-loving world are turned with more than usual interest.

This girl, barely 20, daughter of Otis Skinner and of Maude Durbin represents the test of the laws of heredity. Also of education. For she has been reared and educated for the stage.

"Of course, father is my great inspiration," she says, "but I cannot forget what I owe my mother, who gave up her career on the stage to devote herself to me.

"I always felt the call of the stage. But no matter what you do in life the most important thing is a good education."

Miss Skinner, young, vivid, is more than beautiful. From her large brown eyes and sensitive face a rare intelligence and refinement radiates.

"After prep school at Bryn Mawr, I had two years in Bryn Mawr college. Then for the last year, I have been studying abroad. I was fortunate in having instruction under M. Dehelly Associates of the Comedie Francaise. I gave a good deal of attention to the classics, as well as other phases of the French theater.

"Perhaps, if I hadn't been given an appreciation of education, I might have wanted to go on the stage before.

"When I was eight I played Puck in my school's 'Midsummer Night's Dream' and later in college I played one of father's old roles, 'Sir Jasper Thorndike.' Isn't that amusing? I also did Petruchio. You see I'm so tall—quite as tall as father—that I was always cast for men's roles.

Her First Role
"My first real role? It's that of a superficial worldly, affected woman—a contrasting type to the elemental El Gallo of the Spanish bull ring.

"I speak Spanish. We were in Spain this summer—where I met Banez.

Miss Skinner speaks French and German also as fluently as she does English, and she knows the literature of these countries thoroughly.

"I have been fortunate, she said, "in having father and mother to guide me toward the things in education which tend to an understanding of the best ideals of the theater."

BROKEN RUDDER STOPS EXCURSION

Students Are Obligated to Take Cars to Oshkosh for All-College Events

All aboard and ready to go to Clifton, 150 Lawrence students on the Paul L. got no further by boat than the government dock, Wednesday morning. As the boat swung out into the river the stern hit the rocks which are near the surface of the water when it is at low level and broke a rudder. Repeated attempts to fix the rudder failed and the students left at 10:15 for Oshkosh in chartered inter-urban cars.

Those who were aboard the May flower Jr., left shortly behind scheduled for Clifton but changed their destination to North Park, Oshkosh in order to be with the majority of the students. Many of the auto parties which were planning to leave later for Clifton were notified that the contests were to take place at Oshkosh.

About 500 students and faculty members bought tickets for Clifton. Some of them did not continue the trip by street car, but returned to the almost deserted campus. No meals were served in the college dormitories after an early breakfast.

JAPS POPULATING HAWAIIAN ISLANDS

By Howard Case
Special to Post-Crescent

Honolulu, Hawaii.—Increase of the Japanese population of the territory of Hawaii during the fiscal year 1920-21 showed an even greater ratio than that indicated by the census report of 1920 according to a resume of vital statistics just completed by the Board of Health.

The preponderance of the Japanese population in the territory is set forth in the following statements in the report.

Japanese births during the year constituted virtually one-half of the total births in the territory, or 5001 according to figures supplied by the local Japanese consulate.

Japanese deaths totaled a little more than one-third of the total number recorded in the territory.

The Japanese birth rate was 42.74 per 1000, while that of the entire territory was only 36.91.

The Japanese death rate was 11.45 per 1000 compared with 13.3 for the territory.

A Two-Fisted Job

FOR many years the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) has been perfecting an organization with the sole purpose of giving the consuming public a maximum of service at a minimum of cost.

To do this, four large refineries have been built and equipped; 3,700 bulk stations have been placed at strategic points throughout the 11 states served; more than 1,300 service stations have been located at convenient points so that Standard Oil Company (Indiana) products may be obtained every few miles in the country and every few blocks in the city.

Fleets of tank wagons and motor trucks are always in service ready to deliver Red Crown Gasoline, Perfection Kerosene and other Standard Oil products to consumers, wherever they may live.

In organizing this vast network of service, those responsible for the management of the Company have had two major objects in view; first to reduce the cost of manufacturing, marketing and distributing to the lowest point possible; second, to make prices which would be fair to the consuming public.

While mindful of the rights and privileges of its competitors, the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) believes that its first duty is to the consuming public.

During the present unsettled conditions in the petroleum industry, this Company has reduced the selling price of its goods as rapidly as sound management would permit, and it proposes to continue this practice.

This policy conforms to the established practice of the Company of letting service take care of volume, and volume take care of profits and return to the 20,621 stockholders, not one of whom owns as much as 10 per cent of the capital stock.

DEBEAU AND SANDERS CLASH AT ARMORY TONIGHT

FEATURE TITLE ASPIRANTS WILL STAGE CONTEST

Johnston's Opener of the Sporting Season Will Be Genuine Ring Classic

Boxing fans who fill at the ring-side in the armory Wednesday night will see the next contender for the featherweight championship when they behold Jackie Sanders, New Jersey boxer, in action against "Hardy Eddie" DeBeau, hope of St. Paul.

According to Pat Sanders, the boxer's brother and manager, Jackie will meet Johnny Kilbane at Cleveland, Nov. 12. Pat saw Kilbane after his fight with Frush and he promised he would give the ambitious New Jerseyite the next chance at the title.

In meeting DeBeau, Sanders assumes his third battle this month. In the other two matches he knocked out "California Joe" Gans and "One Round" Besse. The latter fight was staged at Kokomo, Ind., and the man who had the reputation of winning all his fights in the first round was forced to admit defeat in the eighth frame. In August he fought Danny Frush and was given a newspaper decision in the twelfth round.

St. Paul boxing fans will have their ears to the ground Wednesday night to hear reports on their favorite, DeBeau, who is their candidate for the featherweight title.

Among some of DeBeau's latest conquests are Lew Edwards who retained the Australian title up to their meeting. Johnny Nore also succumbed to Eddie's wicked left. Earl Baird, the Pacific coast featherweight, vowed to put a missing link in DeBeau's chain of victories but he was unable to keep his promise and resigned himself to the count in the seventh round.

Frankie Burns, the pride of Chicago, was DeBeau's next opponent and he was a fast one too but Eddie broke through his defenses in the third round and handed him the retirement punch. Christiano of Buffalo stayed with the St. Paul whirlwind till the tenth round and then went down. Mat Smith, Iowa's lightweight champion lost to DeBeau on points. Others whom Eddie has met and conquered are Teddy Murphy, Tommy Henderson, Frankie Beck, and Jack Rose.

Some of the best authorities on boxing claim that DeBeau is one of the best men in the country of his weight. He has a reputation for tearing in and giving the spectators a real exhibition. Further than that he has never hung out the white feather, as his 24 victories during the last year would indicate.

Jackie Sanders, New Jersey contender for featherweight championship, will meet Eddie DeBeau, St. Paul title aspirant at Armory G tonight.

OVERALLS COMING UP SUNDAY WITH VICTORY TOGS ON

Rooters Coming from Sawdust City by Carload to Get Schultz' Goat

Manager Steckbauer of the Overalls takes the cake when it comes to persistence. His majesty, the Sawdust city man, still believes his Indians can defeat the Brandt on the local grounds. He has stated that his gang will make one more desperate attempt next Sunday when the two teams meet in the final game of the post season series.

Although all chances for either Oshkosh or Appleton to win the purse lie in next Sunday's game between Menasha and Fond du Lac and there is small chance that Fond du Lac will win—the rivalry between the two cities will be enough to make it a good fracas. The Overalls still feel that the ump's gave the locals their last 1 to 0 victory over them. They feel pretty cocky over the fact that they defeated Fond du Lac with Doc Gaw of the Milwaukee American association in the box and take it as an indication that they can do the same with Schultz.

About 500 Bogshas will accompany the team to get Hank Schultz's goat, but the lanky pitcher is over that weakness and he won't rattle worth a cent. Stevenson has a reputation to uphold since he pitched the Oshkosh aggregation to the pennant in the valley league. George Brantigen will hold down the third sack for the Overalls. He is a Canadian leaguer and was signed up about a month ago but was delayed on account of a pennant series in that league.

Steckbauer has announced that his mound man will be in the pink of condition and, taking things all in all, he is living in sweet expectation of a victory.

PRICES ARE STILL GOING DOWNWARD

Economists Set Rumors at Rest That Costs Are About to Rise.

Special to Post-Crescent
By Albert Apple
New York—Cost of living. In the United States, now averages about 60 per cent higher than in July 1914.

Dance at Kimberly Dining Hall by the International Social Club, Thursday, Sept. 22. Dancing from 8 to 12.

This is shown by the latest figures compiled by the National Industrial Conference Board.

That is, it now costs you $1.60 to buy the same amount of necessities of life that cost $1 before the war. This is a drop from $2.05, which was the price peak, reached in 1920.

Rents averaged about 80 per cent higher than before the war, taking the country as a whole, says one of the Conference Board's statisticians.

Rents have begun to drop slowly in 42 large cities. These cities include Cleveland, Detroit, Philadelphia, Seattle, Portland, Ore., Los Angeles and Kansas City, Missouri.

Out of Line
Expert observers differ as to how much wholesale prices have dropped.

The Bureau of Labor's latest report, covering 327 leading necessities of life, estimates that on August 1 wholesale prices averaged 48 per cent higher than in 1913.

Dun's says the figure is 35 per cent.

Bradstreet's says it is 20 per cent. A few weeks ago, experts believed that wholesale prices had hit bottom and were starting on a gradual rise. This notion is being exploded as steel and other basic industries continue slashing prices.

All reports show that price deflation is not completed.

The New Level
The general tendency among business men is to buy from hand to mouth. This is caused by uncertainty as to how far prices will drop before they hit bottom.

In the early summer, most business men and bankers ridiculed the prediction of a few scattered economists, that America may be headed back to 1913 prices.

But the Wall Street Journal, in a recent editorial, discussing the gold situation, warned that prices may not stop falling at the 1913 level, and that it is not beyond possibility for prices to drop lower than in 1901.

This possibility is creating much anxious talk among the big purchasing agents.

The majority opinion, however, is that the new price level will be 1913 prices plus whatever is necessary to pay interest on and gradually retire the war debt.

OFFER NEW WAY TO RAISE BONUS

By United Press Leased Wire
Milwaukee — Legalization of real beer and light wines, with a moderate tax to provide the needed revenue for a soldier bonus was the program endorsed by a local post of the American Legion here last night.

They formulated a resolution asking Wisconsin delegates to the national convention of the American Legion at Kansas City to advocate this plan.

The resolution states that service men had no voice in the ratification of the eighteenth amendment and the post feels this is most feasible way to raise the bonus so badly needed by many former service men.

KILBANE MAY WANT $100,000 FOR NEXT

Feather Champion Has Enough Money Now So He Can Make Big Demands

By Roy Grove
Cleveland—The next promoter who digs into his jeans for the where-withal to stage a feather championship scrap, is going to do some deep digging.

Promoters McGinty and Deutsch dangled $60,000 in front of Johnny Kilbane's eyes to get the champ into a ring with Danny Frush and to see if the "old master" had hit the skids.

It was a dirty fight, full of regrettable incidents, but Johnny demonstrated fully that he still is the Kilbane of old, for when Frush's seconds revived him, the Baltimore challenger's body was so spotted with the marks of whallops that he looked like a red-spotted leopard.

Kilbane undoubtedly will hold out now for a purse of $75,000 or $100,000 to defend his title again.

Tex to Pay More
If Tex Rickard is the man behind the guns, Johnny probably will tack on a few thousand more, for Kilbane never has forgotten the slight Rickard handed him when he invited champions of other classes to attend the Dempsey-Carpentier mill and failed to invite the feather king.

Rickard has long been figuring on staging a Kilbane fight, and had offered Johnny $40,000 to appear in New York. Kilbane turned him down cold—and got $60,000 for the fight in Cleveland.

Kilbane, well off financially, cares little whether he fights again soon or not. His one ambition is to keep the crown until spring, when he will have held it for 10 years.

Other contenders probably will refuse to meet the champ in Cleveland for Kilbane's last-minute announcement that he would not fight unless judges of his own choosing were named gives the feathers the impression that they cannot get a fair deal with him here.

A howl—a thousand howls—have gone up over the fouls in the Kilbane-Frush battle.

About the Fouls
I was at the ringside, not six feet from where the unpleasantness in the first round took place. This is what happened.

During an exchange of blows Kilbane claimed Frush fouled him. It certainly looked as if Frush was going after Kilbane's wind. Johnny turned to Referee Kelly to protest. Kelly paid no heed; Frush continued his whallops. That angered the champ, and he drew Frush toward him with his glove back of Danny's neck and deliberately "kneed" him.

Kelly sent the two men to their corners, and rather than step a fight that had been under way only a couple of minutes, which would have forever killed boxing in Cleveland, he gave the men a chance to recover, and ordered the fight to go on.

Kelly is to be commended. His action was fair, as both fighters had fouled, although Kilbane deserves censure, as his foul was deliberate.

AMERICAN THIRD IN BALLOON RACE

By United Press Leased Wire

Brussels—Paul Armbruster of Switzerland was Wednesday officially declared winner of the Gordon Bennett international balloon race, which started from here September 15. His balloon landed at Lantbay Island near Dublin, Ireland.

Henry Spencer, the English entry, was second and Ralph Upton, American, third.

All contestants landed safely except the American, Bernard VonHoffman, whose balloon "City of St. Louis" fell into the Irish sea fifteen miles off Dublin. J. G. McKibben, passenger in VanHoffman's balloon, was knocked from the basket into the water during the descent, but both he and the pilot were rescued.

Watching The Scoreboard

Yesterday's hero, Harry Harper, Iowa southpaw of the Yankees pitched the New Yorkers back into first place by defeating the Tigers 4 to 2.

Six runs scored in the eighth inning during which Uble and Bagby were badly mauled gave the Red Sox a 7 to 4 win over the Cleveland Indians.

Nixon hit a homer and a triple but it didn't help the Braves who fell before the Cardinals 9 to 1.

Zachary held the White Sox to two hits and the Senators won 9 to 0.

After losing ten straight games the Athletics came out of it and won from the Browns 3 to 1.

An error by Frank Frisch, a wild pitch and a single by O'Farrell in the tenth inning enabled the Cubs to beat the Giants 7 to 6 after Kelly's twenty-third homer had led the score in the eighth.

Marquard was hit hard by the Phils who defeated the Reds 6 to 1.

this country, but the popularity of the sport somehow seems to be on the wane overseas.

"Headquarters"
France has asked American A. A. U. officials to send over American coaches to train French athletes for the 1924 Olympic games, and the request has been granted.

Mexico has contracted with the Dallas and San Antonio baseball teams to play a post-season series of six games at Mexico City, to give Mexicans an insight into American sport.

The prestige that America enjoys as international "sporting headquarters" influences more than is suspected America's international political position.

SOME BABY!

New York's police force consists of 24 inspectors, 26 sergeants, 102 captains, 524 lieutenants, 769 sergeants, 3,342 patrolmen and 75 policemen. And that won't be half enough if the world series is played there.

There are 11,795,747 Bell telephone connections in the United States. And early in October 11,795,742 of them will be busy asking the score.

POLICE DEPARTMENT IS FINED FOR MOONSHINING

Special to Post-Crescent
Superior—The police department, patrolman, night watchman and department of public safety of Emerald, Wis., was arrested, charged with selling moonshine.
He was fined $400 and costs.
William Granger, the police department, et al., was arrested when federal prohibition enforcement officers seized him for a quart of liquor. Granger replied that he was sorry, but he had just sold his last quart to the village constable.
Emerald is in that section of northern Wisconsin known as "Little Kentucky."

SOUTHPAW HARPER IS GUIDING YANKS

Muggins Finds Him a Good Man in Crucial Period of Pennant Squabble

By Henry L. Farrell

New York — Last year a left-handed Moses went to Cleveland and led the Indians to a pennant.

This year it seems that another southpaw might be able to guide the footsteps of the New York Yankees out of the darkness in which they long have been floundering.

Laughing Harry Harper, who drew laughs from the wise ones when Miller Huggins picked him off the chute last winter is playing the role of Duster.

Mails, the Cleveland saviour of 1920, Harper, with a broken finger sustained early in the season, polished a seat in the dugout until a few weeks ago when Huggins had to use him in a pinch.

Now working regularly now and turning in games regularly. The smiling southpaw has not only turned in his last four games for the New Yorkers but has shown impressive form in every victory.

Yesterday Harper went in and trounced the Tigers in workmanlike fashion, putting the Yankees back in first place. Last winter when Huggins cleared his roster of lefthanders his theory was justified as a port-sider is considered a necessary part of every big league's equipment. Huggins said he didn't need a lefthander but he is needing Harper badly now and the veteran is delivering.

Babe Ruth another southpaw for a while, warmed up yesterday for a half hour with Hoffman. Huggins perhaps may call upon him to do a little mound work in the last hard mile.

The Yankees are again holding a slight lead with the help of the trusty Boston Red Sox who knocked off the Indians with a late rally when it looked all against them.

The National League race tightened up again when the Giants were trimmed by the Cubs while Pittsburg was resting out under rain. The Giants now have a lead of three games.

Choose Anyone
Paris—"I am going to the United States the first of next year to fight anyone who may be chosen." Georges Carpentier told the United Press Wednesday. "Before that I have a fight in London, on December 2, probably with Cook."

GOLF TITLE RACE NARROWED TO 16

By United Press Leased Wire

St. Louis Country Club, Clayton, Mo. — Contestants for the national amateur golf championship Wednesday narrowed down to 16.

Robert A. Gardner of Chicago, former champion, and Thomas D. Armour, ex-Scottish titleholder, were expected to furnish the real excitement in the second round of match play. Both golfers have excellent records and a hard fought battle was anticipated.

Unless the unforeseen occurs, outstanding favorites will clash tomorrow.

Bobby Jones, Atlanta wonder, and Francis Ouimet, Boston streak, now are looked upon to fight out the championship with Charles Evans, Jr., Chicago, who now wears the crown. As an added attraction, Miss De-
